PEACE PROPOSALS AND HITLER REPLY FULLY ACCLAIMED

Expressions of Satisfaction and Agreement With Sentiments of President Roosevelt's Message Come From Many Nations—Tokio Embarrassed and Moscow Reserved

(By the Associated Press)

GOVERNMENTS of the world received with almost universal acclaim, Wednesday, President Roosevelt's proposals to fifty-four nations for peace and economic recovery, and the reply thereto from Chancellor Adolph Hitler on behalf of Germany. Some of the reactions:

WASHINGTON. — President Roosevelt was optimistic for success of his plan to ban military aggression after considering Hitler's speech.

HITLER'S ENDORSEMENT

BERLIN.—Chancellor Hitler endorsed Roosevelt's utterances, declaring Germany would go as far as any other nation in disarming.

PARIS.—A Government spokesman regarded Hitler's attitude as conciliatory and an about face in policy; Premier Daladier wished success for Roosevelt's plan.

LONDON.—Prime Minister MacDonald gave Roosevelt's attitude hearty approval; plan expected to be laid before House of Commons soon.

AN IMPLIED THREAT

GENEVA.—League of Nations spokesman regarded Hitler's words as more moderate than expected but disliked what they called an implied threat against the disarmament conference unless Germany were granted arms equality.

ROME.—Both Roosevelt and Hitler utterances considered in semi-official circles as important steps toward disarmament and world peace.

TOKIO.—War Office spokesman said Japan would be embarrassed by President Roosevelt's suggestions because of war operations in North China.

MADRID. — Newspapers commented variously that the inferiority imposed on Germany by the Treaty of Versailles must be removed.

MOSCOW RESERVED

MOSCOW.—Government officials greeted Roosevelt's appeal with reserve, but unofficially it was regarded with satisfaction, although not as recognition.

In addition to Great Britain, other nations to signify approval

EXPEDITION AT CRITICAL STAGE

Climbers Encamped at 21,000 Feet—Intense Cold Is Recorded

By HUGH RUTTLEDGE
Leader, Mt. Everest Climbing Expedition.
(Copyright, 1933, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

RONGBUK, May 15 (By wireless from Base Camp via Gangtok).—Dr. Raymond Greene, our senior medical officer; Tom Brocklebank, George Wood-Johnson, transport officer, and I have joined the advance party which established Camp 3 at a height of 21,000 feet. There is much snow now on the glacier and a violent wind blowing from the glacier itself.

Our Arctic tents have proved an immense success. They have enabled the party to remain in comfort throughout a period of strong winds and low temperature. Fifty-two degrees frost was registered one night.

ICE WALL IS CHANGED

The great ice wall between Camps 3 and 4 has completely changed since the expedition of 1924. Two tentative reconnaissances have been made, and as a result we seem to have hit on a rather steep but safe road.

CLAYOQUOT ORE HIGH IN VALUES

Assay Returns on Shipment Cause Considerable Excitement in West Coast District

Prospectors are working up the Mayeha River from Herbert Arm, near Clayoquot, into Strathcona Park in search of gold, it was disclosed in wires received from Clayoquot yesterday.

Considerable local excitement exists in the Clayoquot area, finding extremely high assays returned on a small shipment of ore from a prospect in the district. Staking is going on, and gold seekers are entering the southwestern section of Strathcona Park from the West Coast. Here, it is said, there are fine indications of mineralization.

The Mayeha River rises within the park area and flows out to the head of Herbert Arm.

GOV'T WINS IN ELECTION

South African Party Leads —Two Followers of Roos Are Elected

CAPETOWN, South Africa, May 18 (CP).—South Africa's Coalition Government and its supporters today appeared headed for a virtual clean sweep of yesterday's elections for the House of Assembly. Coalition candidates were piling up majorities in almost all the seventy-two constituencies where voting took place. Seventy-eight Government supporters were returned unopposed on nomination day.

The new United Coalition party, headed by former Judge Tielman Roos, gained two seats, but Roos himself appeared unlikely to win against Minister of Native Affairs P. G. Grobler, in Rustenburg, Transvaal. Gerry Bouwer, automobile racer and Roos supporter, defeated the Laborite, J. J. McMenamin, in Boksburg, Transvaal, and Dr. Hjalmar Reitz won from H. W. Sampson, former Laborite Minister of Posts and Telegraphs, in Jeppe, Transvaal.

INDEPENDENTS DO WELL

Several Independents were doing well, but all were pledged to Government support. J. Hirsch, Independent and member of the Springbok rugger team, gained a seat for his party in Port Elizabeth South, Cape Province. He defeated the South African party member, E. R. McIlwraith.

With 100 of the 150 seats in the House returned the standing of parties was:

South African party, fifty-one; Nationalists, forty-three; United Coalitionists, two; Labor, one; National Council Labor, one; Independents, two.

Voting was light among male members of the electorate, but women, exercising their franchise for the first time, flocked to the polls. Officials described it as the quietest election in the history of the Union.

FLOOD MENACE GROWS SERIOUS

Large Area Under Water in Illinois and Missouri—One Drowned

ST. LOUIS, May 17 (AP).—Flooded tributaries of the Mississippi River in Illinois and Missouri continued to rise today and an additional large area was overflooded when a levee broke on the Illinois River near Whitehall.

It was expected more than 8,000 acres would be flooded there within forty-eight hours.

The Illinois River was falling in its upper reaches, but still higher stages were expected at Peoria and below because of recent heavy rains.

EVACUATE LOWLANDS

The Ohio River at Shawneetown, Ill., reached a stage of 38.6, a rise of .5 in forty-eight hours. Residents have evacuated the lowlands in the vicinity.

In Southeast Missouri thousands of acres were inundated by flood waters of the Black and St. Francis Rivers, and four companies of National Guardsmen were ordered out to patrol the levees.

Walter Brooks was drowned when he was thrown from a rowboat.

Japanese Troops Continue Advance

TOKIO, May 17 (AP).—While President Roosevelt was pleading for pledges that troops would not cross the boundaries of another country, the Japanese army, already holding 3,000 square miles of territory below the great wall of China, ploughed deeper into that country.

Air scouts reported Japanese and Manchukuan flags were floating from triumphal arches raised in Tanshan and other towns before the arrival of the invaders.

ADDING TO DEFINITION

GENEVA, May 17 (AP).—The security committee of the World Disarmament Conference decided today to incorporate the Rooseveltian doctrine of non-aggression into its definition of an aggressor state.

Post Taking Robot on Flight to Lower His Old Record

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 17 (CP). — Wiley Post, co-holder of the round-the-world flight record, announced today he would take off about July 1 in a solo attempt to lower the mark. The flight, Post said, will be made in the Winnie Mae, in which he and Harold Gatty flew around the globe in eight days, fifteen hours and fifty-one minutes in June, 1931. The plane will carry a new motor. The rebuilt plane will have a cruising speed of about 170 miles an hour and top speed of 225 miles an hour.

Instead of a human companion, Post will be aided by a robot, which he has been testing for several weeks. Post expects the robot to relieve him of much of the work of flying, leaving him free to navigate and rest.

"I am simply going out to set a new record, my personal ambition," was Post's only comment. "I will have no backer, no manager and no partners."

Relief Is Proposed On B.C. Irrigation District Advances

Special Study Made of Conditions in Each Area, With View to Adjusting Debt to Levels That Can Be Successfully Carried

BROAD lines for a proposed settlement of the Province with British Columbia irrigation districts, in respect to outstanding loans of $2,977,093, were sketched out yesterday on the return of Hon. N. S. Lougheed to the city. Mr. Lougheed acted for the Government in a close review of conditions in all irrigation districts, and will present his recommendations to the Cabinet forthwith.

Salient features in the adjustment to be recommended are believed to contain a plan to amortize the debt in each area on a thirty-year basis, with sinking funds and interest charges combined not to exceed 7.2 per cent annually. In respect to many areas there is expected to be a writing down of the capital sum, while all districts concerned will be dealt with on their ascertained ability to carry the debt under reasonably normal conditions.

FLEXIBLE SCHEME

There may be suggested provision for latitude in respect to the thirty-year consolidation plan, under which in years of distress the districts could postpone payments to the end of the amortized table, adding to the life of the agreement to that extent, with leave to do this remaining in the hands of the Province.

For the current year it is fully expected that the Province will apply that same degree of relief to the irrigation districts that it has already given to the diking areas, where payment on all but maintenance and repair costs have been postponed.

A separate hearing was held in each irrigation district, with representatives of the respective boards in attendance with data on their loans, and the conditions in their own areas.

CANADIANS MAY ACCEPT TITLES

Premier Holds Resolution Passed in 1919 Not Binding on Present Government

OTTAWA, May 17 (CP).—The Government takes the view Canadians may accept titles bestowed on them by the King. An answer to a question placed on the order paper by Joseph A. Mercier (Lib., Laurier-Outremont) was tabled in the House today by Premier R. B. Bennett, setting forth that the resolution passed by the House of Commons in 1919, asking His Majesty to refrain from conferring titular distinctions on Canadians, was not binding on the present Government or Parliament.

The reply stated: "It being the considered view of His Majesty's Government in Canada that the motion in respect to honors adopted on May 21, 1919, by a majority vote of the Commons House only, of the Thirteenth Parliament (which was dissolved on the fourth day of October, 1921) is not binding upon His Majesty or His Majesty's Government in Canada or the Seventeenth Parliament of Canada."

Gardiner Accepts Balance of Power in Effort to End Dispute

COMOX-ALBERNI IS GREATLY ENLARGED

OTTAWA, May 17 (CP).—Robert Gardiner, leader of the United Farmers of Alberta, moved into a new role today when he accepted the balance of power between the warring Liberals and Conservatives, on a committee created in a final effort to break the redistribution deadlock.

Premier R. B. Bennett proposed a committee today, a few minutes before draft copies of the Redistribution Bill were tabled in the House. Liberals already had intimated they would not agree to the changes in Quebec, Saskatchewan, Ontario, British Columbia and Nova Scotia, promising a protracted debate in the House.

ELDER STATESMEN

In an effort to reach unanimity on redistribution, and stave off the long debate, the Prime Minister suggested a committee of "elder

MAJOR BATTLES ARE IMMINENT

Cuban Rebels and Federal Soldiers Clash in Minor Skirmish

SANCTI SPIRITUS, Cuba, May 17 (AP).—Six rebels were killed when soldiers and revolutionary forces clashed today at Blanquisal, near this city.

The army contingents were operating under the joint command of Col. Pedro Vilato, commander of Camaguey Province forces, and Lieut. Jesus Oviedo, in charge of the garrison stationed at Sancti Spiritus. Whether the troops suffered any casualties was not learned.

REBELS SURROUNDED

Blanquisal is near the Camaguey-Santa Clara border, and the rebel band, the reports reaching Sancti Spiritus indicated, were surrounded in an encircling movement initiated yesterday by two companies selected from rural guards stationed in this immediate section and Vilato's forces from Camaguey Province.

Thirty casualties were reported in a battle in this vicinity last night. Several minor skirmishes occurred yesterday and last night, and it was believed major combats were imminent.

Hitler Announces Germany's Readiness to Co-operate With Other Nations in Guaranteeing International Peace—Says Security, Not Aggression, Is His Country's Aim

Moderation Is Feature of Chancellor's Pronouncement

BERLIN, May 17 (AP). — Chancellor Hitler today trumpeted Germany's demand for equality in armaments and announced Germany's readiness to co-operate with other nations in guaranteeing international security and tranquility in a pronouncement before the Reichstag. "There is but one great task before the world, namely, to secure the peace of the world," the Nazi chieftain asserted in an address, which, while stoutly reaffirming Germany's "right to live" on equal terms with other peoples, was marked by obvious moderation.

The German Chancellor roundly scored the Versailles Treaty, but pledged his Government to abide by it until some better instrument should be found to replace it.

He said he considered Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's arms plan a starting point for solution of the arms problem.

SEEKS SECURITY

"Germany is not thinking of aggression, but of security," the Chancellor declared in announcing that his country is ready to join 'every solemn non-aggression pact.'"

Other parts of the Chancellor's speech were designed to show his desire to save Europe the scourge of war and to assure peace for Germany and for her neighbors.

EQUALITY OF ARMS

Reiterating the demand for equality of armaments, the Chancellor asserted that equality is moral, legal and sensible.

"Germany wants nothing she is not ready to give others," he said.

He welcomed President Franklin Roosevelt's initiative in calling yesterday to fifty-four nations for world peace.

"The American President's proposals," he said, "place Germany under warm obligations. Germany is ready without reserve to agree to this method of relieving the international crisis, for she too is of the opinion that without a solution of the disarmament question no lasting economic reconstruction is possible.

"She (Germany) is ready unselfishly to participate in this work of

WAS TARGET FOR BOMBS

Two Thrown Without Effect at Chinese National Gov't Representative

TIENTSIN, China, May 17 (AP). —The tension which prevails at Tientsin over the Sino-Japanese situation was markedly increased today by an attempted assassination of Hwang Fu, representative of the Nanking National Government in North China.

A bomb was thrown at Hwang by a Chinese, who later asserted he was a political enemy of the Nanking representative.

Hwang was uninjured, but the thrower was hurt.

Hwang, reported to be in line for appointment as Nanking's Minister to North China, is commonly reputed to be friendly to the Japanese. It was expected that as a result of his coming to North China an arrangement for a cessation of hostilities might be made with the Japanese.

The bomb was hurled at Hwang as he arrived at the railway station here.

SECOND ATTEMPT

A second attempt within twenty-four hours to assassinate General Hwang Fu, representative of the Nanking Nationalist Government in North China, failed today as he departed for Peiping.

A second bomb, hurled at him as he was starting to leave after a conference with Provincial Government leaders, did not explode. The would-be assassin escaped.

The first bomb thrower was executed by soldiers late today. He was captured when he was injured by the explosion of the bomb he threw.

General Hwang reached Peiping safely, where he denied the Nanking Government had entered into an undrstanding with the Japanese. He is reputedly friendly with the Japanese and reports persist here that he is arranging a Sino-Japanese agreement.

Japanese Shoot at Russians

MOSCOW, May 17 (AP).—A Tass (Russian) news agency dispatch from Khabarovsk, Siberia, said a group of peasants in Soviet territory near the village of Poltavka, less than a mile from the Manchurian frontier, were fired upon, May 9, by Japanese soldiers.

One peasant was reported fatally wounded and a horse killed. The mortally wounded man, it was said, could not be removed until several hours later, because attempts to approach him drew fire.

The Japanese fired from Manchurian territory with machine guns, the dispatch said.

LADNER BRIDGE WILL BE BUILT

B.C. Gov't Prepares Agreement With Company for Start on Project

Early start on the proposed Ladner Bridge across the Fraser River, and its completion at a cost in the neighborhood of $1,750,000 within two years' time, is believed the purport of an agreement now waiting the signature of the Provincial authorities, after a series of conferences with the representatives of the Ladner Bridge Company here.

The Province yesterday proclaimed the special act passed at the last session, which authorizes such an agreement, with a limited guarantee of operating liabilities, up to a fixed maximum, in return for a first lien on the assets of the bridge. In the absence of Hon. R. W. Bruhn, Minister of Works, who was at Sicamous, confirmation of the terms of the proposed agreement was withheld.

BRITISH CAPITAL

It is understood, however, that subject to official ratification, an early start is to be made on actual construction, British capital supplying the funds; and the steel work to be supplied by the firm of Dorman, Long & Company, of London, England. The work would supply employment to a considerable number of men over a period of about two years.

More Conservative Ministers to Quit Unionist Cabinet

With Appointment of Labor Minister Government Changed Political Complexion—Hinchliffe, Howe and Maitland Expected to Retire

FOLLOWING announcement of the appointment of Hon. W. M. Dennies as Minister of Labor, and Premier Tolmie's statement in which he characterized the appointment as the first of the Unionist Party Government, speculation is rife as to what further changes will be made in the Unionist Cabinet.

Three Conservative ministers leave the Government on May 31. They are Hon. W. C. Shelly, President of the Council; Hon. N. S. Lougheed, Minister of Lands, and Hon. William Atkinson, Minister of Agriculture.

Other resignations of Conservative ministers will be asked for shortly by the Premier, it was learned today, and the Unionist Government will be formed by Dr. Tolmie about the remnants of the present Administration.

LADNER BRIDGE WILL BE BUILT

By proclaiming the Ladner Bridge Act, 1933, the Province brought into play its powers to enter an agreement with the Ladner Bridge Company on terms within the confines of the statute. The act permits a guarantee of half the operating deficits of the bridge, which would be operated as a toll structure, on a dollar-for-dollar basis with the operating company. If any money were advanced under this guarantee, the law prescribes, it would be secured by a first lien on all the assets of the company, including the bridge, in priority to financing loans.

ADJUST FERRY CONTRACT

The Government further disclosed its intention of acting without delay, in another order which adjusted the loss sustained by the present holder of the Ladner-Woodward ferry contract. Federal steamboat inspectors recently condemned the boat put at his disposal by the Province.

Under the terms of the ferry contract the Province would have to make good the loss of the boat by a new vessel, costing up to $40,000. As a temporary measure, the Province has given Leonard M. Robson, the ferry operator, the use of the Ms. Agassiz, and has adjusted the difference between a bonus he was to pay for the operation of the service, and the loss he sustains through use of a vessel of half the capacity of that upon which he tendered for the service.

TEMPORARY MEASURE

The ferry adjustment was made as a temporary measure "in view of the projected bridge to replace this ferry service."

The Ladner Bridge bill passed the Legislature without date affixed for its operation, this being left to proclamation. Its proclamation yesterday brings the act into immediate effect. Formal announcement of the actual agreement to be entered is expected on the reutrn of Mr. Bruhn from th Interior later this week.

We cannot yet be quite certain whether the old ice shell which accommodated Camp 4 is still in position, but probably it is.

IN SPLENDID CONDITION

As a result of our slow acclimatization methods, we have ten members of the expedition at or above Camp 3 in splendid condition and fit for the great climb.

The dispatch from Hugh Ruttledge telling of the advance beyond Camp 3 shows that the Mt. Everest expedition has reached a critical period in its assault on the world's highest peak.

The great ice wall apparently is the North Col, or "Chang La," on the main north ridge ascending to the peak of Everest. It is marked by ice and snow slopes, difficult of ascent even under favorable conditions, and frequently shifting as new snows come or hot winds of the monsoon melt away sections of it.

SCENE OF TRAGEDY

Seven native porters were killed in an avalanche in this region in the course of the expedition of 1922. They were part of a party of sixteen, headed by G. L. Mallory, who was to lose his life on the mountain in 1924, and two other white men. Mallory and his white companions escaped in 1922, after a slide of 150 feet down the cliffside, but some of the natives fell into a sixty-foot crevasse and were killed.

OLD OFFENDER GIVEN SUSPENDED SENTENCE

VANCOUVER, May 17 (CP).—Sentence was suspended by Police Magistrate W. M. McKay in the case of Joseph Payne, negro, convicted of sending a letter to Mrs. Bertha Swanson, 7 West Hastings Street, threatening to burn down her lodging-house.

The magistrate declared that, while he knew it was a fact Payne had spent nearly thirty years in various prisons, and had only recently completed a penitentiary term, he was going to give him a chance. He warned the convicted man as to his future conduct and placed him on probation bonds.

NEW MINISTER MEETS CABINET

Hon. W. M. Dennies Interprets Call as Tribute to Labor Thought

British Columbia's new Minister of Labor, Hon. W. M. Dennies, was introduced by Premier Tolmie to other members of the Cabinet yesterday, and took the night boat to Vancouver to clean up his personal affairs there, before returning to take over his new duties next week.

Mr. Dennies made it plain that he regards his call to the Cabinet in an impersonal way, as a tribute to labor thought at a time when Labor can contribute something definite to reconstruction measures for the benefit of mankind at large.

LABOR OPPORTUNITY

Interviewed before his departure, last evening, for the Mainland, Mr. Dennies said he regarded his appointment as an opportunity for organized labor to make itself a factor in the counsels of the province, at a time when the co-operation of all elements of society will be needed to bring about a betterment of conditions for the welfare of all.

The Minister of Labor regards reconstruction of economic order as an achievement to be won through definite and tangible means, with Labor playing its part. He commented on the fact that for the first time in British Columbia history, Labor had been given a separate and distinct share in the counsels of Government, in a portfolio of its own. It rests with Labor, he intimated, whether or not good use was made of the opportunity.

CONSTRUCTIVE PLANS

Mr. Dennies corrected some first impressions when he stated he had no intention whatever of reducing relief scales. He intimated that he hopes for a broad constructive programme which will reabsorb men and women back into gainful employment, at a return more in keeping with the social progress of civilization and the improvement of living standards. He favors the principle of a shorter working day, and believes its adoption is a matter that time will bring about.

When the proper time arrives, Mr. Dennies said, he will be prepared to lay before the Government a definite programme, which would have the support of the rank and file of the Labor movement. Constructive co-operation in the interests of humanity was required, he asserted.

SINCERE IN AIMS

Explaining that he had been a member of Canadian labor organizations since 1906, Mr. Dennies declared he would interpret his mission in the broadest sense, and not from a sectional or narrow standpoint. He would work sincerely in the interests of all the people, the new Minister of Labor concluded.

Slight in build, with an intent seriousness that marks both purpose and determination, the minister who is the first official voice of Labor in a British Columbia Government would not be a cipher in any row of human figures, and may be counted on to make his presence felt before long in his present setting.

HIS MAJESTY'S MESSAGE

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP).—King George today graciously acknowledged President Franklin Roosevelt's appeal for world peace.

As made public here tonight His Majesty's brief message to the United States President read:

"I thank you for your important message, which I have communicated to my governments in order that it may receive their fullest consideration."

Before the British Cabinet took up the plan today, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald had publicly voiced his whole-hearted approval of the Roosevelitian move.

SINCERE SATISFACTION

PARIS, May 17 (AP).—France climbed on the band wagon of nations officially endorsing President Roosevelt's peace proposals today with a declaration by Premier Edouard Daladier of sincere satisfaction.

The similar response by Chancellor Hitler of Germany, however, came as a distinct surprise to the French Government.

Hitler's "conciliatory terms" were viewed by the Government as a complete about-face in German politics, a spokesman said. Official quarters indicated France preferred to wait and see what Germany will do at the Disarmament Conference.

A DECISIVE PASS

ROME, May 17 (AP).—The conviction that the international situation has been brought to a decisive pass, where a clear cut issue—peace or chaos—is at stake, was expressed today on every side while Italy awaited the voice of Mussolini, throwing Italy's full moral weight in the balance.

This is likely to be heard when the Grand Council meets Saturday. It is expected the Premier will contribute a strongly-worded statement to the Roosevelt and Hitler declarations. Meanwhile official Italy remains silent.

FAVORS RECONCILIATION

MOSCOW, May 17 (AP).—While the Soviet Government does not consider President Roosevelt's peace message, addressed to President Kallinin among others, as an act or recognition, the general feeling prevailed in Soviet circles that it does provide a very favorable position for reconciliation of Washington and Moscow.

Newspapers and officials alike refrained from any direct comment on the Roosevelt message, although it was published textually in all important morning papers.

Relief Survey Is Proposed by City Council Committee

COMPLETE re-investigation of all cases on the city's direct relief list will be made, if recommendations from the relief committee are adopted. This action is believed to have been taken at a special meeting of the relief committee yesterday, in view of the Government's policy to reduce its share in the cost of direct relief to municipalities. It is felt that a re-survey of the whole situation may reveal that some of those on the list may have rehabilitated themselves during the past few months, and that the relief budget may be cut accordingly.

EMPLOYMENT IN INDUSTRY GAINS

Reports of Manufacturers Show Steady Increase in Payroll Numbers

OTTAWA, May 17.—While there are some 8,000 organizations making monthly reports of the number of their employees to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, a considerable number of these organizations, notably in the construction industry, are employing persons as a matter of relief and not for strictly economic reasons. This affects the value of the grand total of employees reported as a barometric of the business situation.

This, however, is not the case with the manufacturing plants. If a manufacturer adds to his staff, it is because he expects to make a profit by doing so. In the first quarter of 1933 some 8,000 employees were added to the staffs of the 4,900 factories which furnish monthly employment data to the Bureau of Statistics.

The aggregate number of their payrolls increased from some 369,000 persons on January 1, 1933 to nearly 377,000 at the beginning of April. The leather, lumber, textile, chemical and iron and steel industries have shown uninterrupted advances in the number of their employees since the beginning of the year, and some other manufacturing groups have also reported improvement during part of this period.

The number of persons added to the staffs of leather firms was approximately 1,700, most of whom are employed in boot and shoe plants. In the lumber group, some 700 additional employees were added between January 1 and April 1, mainly in rough-lumber mills. In the same period, textile manufacturers enlarged their staffs by approximately 2,700 persons, largely in garment factories. Again, the employees added to the payrolls of iron and steel plants in the first quarter of the year numbered 5,300.

DEMANDS ARMS EQUALITY AND TO ABIDE BY TREATY

putting in order the political and economic conditions of the world."

WILLING TO DISARM

Germany, he said, will go as far as any other country in disarming.

"Germany would dissolve her entire military establishment," he said, "and destroy what little armaments are left, if neighboring countries did likewise.

"Contrariwise, Germany must insist at least upon equality."

Turning to Germany's present military situation the Chancellor said:

"Germany has disarmed. Our army consists of 100,000 men. The strength and quality of the police are internationally regulated.

"Assistant police, established during our revolution, have an exclusively political character. After the victory in the revolution this police organization already is being demobilized and will be completely dissolved before the end of the year.

"Germany now has the moral right to demand that other nations also fulfill the obligations of the Versailles Treaty."

FRENCH DEMANDS

Then dealing with the desires of the French Government with regard to security, he asked:

"What concrete safeguards does France demand beyond the international obligations already assumed? What safeguards is Germany to have?

Hitler's long speech, which many regard as his most statesmanlike effort, rallied the entire German people behind him. Not since August, 1914, when the people's chosen representatives unanimously pledged their support to Wilhelm II has the Reichstag witnessed such unanimity. Even the Socialist members stood and gave assent as Speaker Goering of the Reichstag read the impressive resolution in support of the Chancellor's declaration of foreign policy.

BURST INTO APPLAUSE

The galleries burst into applause and the vast audience sang "Deutschland Ueber Alles."

After hearing the speech, most of the German people probably agreed with Herr Goering as he closed a memorable meeting with the simple words: "The world has seen the German nation united when its fate was at stake."

German political circles, expressing themselves in lobbies of the Reichstag, in the Wilhemstrasse and in cafes and restaurants, all see in Chancellor Hitler's speech Nazism's intense desire to live in peace with its neighbors and the world at large.

DISLIKE IMPLIED THREATS

GENEVA, May 17 (AP).—Basing their views of Chancellor Hitler's speech on incomplete versions received here, League of Nations commentators said today the German Chancellor had been more moderate than they had anticipated.

These commentators disliked, however, what they characterized as an implied threat to the Disarmament Conference and the League of Nations if Germany fails to obtain arms equality.

Japanese Envoy At San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17 (AP).—Radiating a willingness to cooperate with President Roosevelt to revive world trade, Viscount Kikujiro Ishii, of Japan, crossed the western threshold of America today, on his way to Washington to discuss economic problems with the President.

He was received with diplomatic courtesy by Richard Southgate, assistant chief of the division of international conferences, as the Japanese liner Tatsutu Maru steamed into the Golden Gate.

SENATE APPROVES TREATY

OTTAWA, May 18 (AP).—After brief discussion, the Senate today approved the bill ratifying the new trade treaty between Canada and France.

TWICE AS OLD and only half as charming

EVEN in middle age there are women who enjoy buoyant youth. Are you just half as lovely and charming as you might be? Do sleeplessness and headaches keep you half-ill, listless, dull? Why not stop the use of tea and coffee? These beverages contain tannin and caffeine which shatter millions of nerves. There are, of course, many people who can drink tea and coffee in moderation without feeling the ill-effects—without suffering from sleeplessness or other distressing disorders. Not everyone though, by any means.

Drink Postum. Get a new grip on yourself through this rich, full-bodied, satisfying drink free from all drug-stimulants. Every member of the family will like it. Wise Investments Build Surplus in City Sinking Fund

Yields Average From 2 to 3 Per Cent More Than Requirements—Property Holders Asked to Assist by Pre-Paying Their Taxes

WITH the city's sinking funds being invested in such a manner as to yield from 2 to 3 per cent interest more than the requirements, a substantial surplus in the fund is anticipated at the close of this year, despite the fact that last year's surplus earnings, amounting to $180,000, have been used to balance the 1933 budget, Alderman P. R. Brown, chairman of the finance committee, announced yesterday.

Since the beginning of the year the finance committee has recommended many investments in which the yield has ranged from 5.95 per cent to as high as 8.7 per cent. The yield in the majority of cases, however, was more than 6 per cent, and generally averaged 6.5.

THE REQUIREMENT

All that is required by the sinking fund is a yield of 4 per cent, so that 1933 investments should place the city's funds in a favorable position at the close of this year.

"While it has been difficult to secure our own bonus due to public demand for them, so far we have been successful," Alderman Brown stated. "In this way we have been able to retire many of our own debentures at much below the par rate."

MAKES APPEAL

"While we are doing this we are hoping that the property holders of this city will respond to the demands of trying times by paying their current taxes promptly. Only by so doing can we maintain that confidence in the city's finances, which have so far permitted us to invest wisely and advantageously," the chairman of the finance committee stated.

Since the beginning of the year a total of $139,500 has been spent in sinking fund investments, by purchasing the city's own bonds. In addition to this, £24,700 also has been spent in buying Victoria bonds. This latter amount has been chiefly for the purpose of meeting obligations falling due in London, and has been done in such a way that the city has not only gained the advantage of interest ranging as high as 8.5 and 8.7 per cent, but also had made money through buying at times when the foreign exchange has been in Victoria's favor.

The only bonds invested in that were not issued by the city were $4,500 worth of Province of Manitoba bonds, which yields 5.91 per cent.

PROFIT MADE

Many excellent exchanges in bonds also have been made, the most recent one effecting a profit of 58 cents per $100 per annum, while yet another gave the city a profit of $3,817.22.

This survey of the sinking funds, coupled with the manner in which the property holders are availing themselves of the pre-payment system of tax collections, has given the Mayor and the finance chairman hope that this year's budget will be balanced in actual cash.

"However, it depends largely upon the property holder. If the collections fall below 81 per cent, then we will have to carry a deficit over to next year, which must be avoided, owing to the many burdens with which we are now faced," Alderman Brown declared.

ELDER STATESMEN TO PROBE DEADLOCK OVER REDISTRIBUTION

statesmen," naming Sir George Perley and Hon. Alfred Duranleau, for the Conservatives. Hon. Charles Stewart and Hon. Ernest Lapointe were named by Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King for the Liberals; and Robert Gardiner was added from the Progressives. "Although a new member of the House, Mr. Duranleau was added to the "elder statesmen," a representative of Quebec.

The committee will have no powers to alter constituency boundaries, but will act as a group of judges, considering the relative merits of the warring factions.

AT WORK IMMEDIATELY

The members met almost immediately upon appointment, and soon were bent over constituency maps, listening to this claim and that claim, attempting to pour oil on troubled waters.

In the meantime, the House rose until tomorrow afternoon, giving the committee many hours in which to reconcile divergent views. It was their duty to placate and, from the height of their wisdom, look down on the deadlock dispassionately. How successful they were today could only be imagined, as they maintained strict silence.

The 245 Federal ridings were defined in the Redistribution Bill, most of the changes being made in Quebec and Saskatchewan.

ISLAND RIDINGS

Following is the redistribution detail for Federal ridings, Vancouver Island, of which Comox-Alberni is expected to be contested by A. W. Neill, member for the riding, and A. E. Munn, member for Vancouver North:

Victoria, consisting of all of the city of Victoria, the Municipality of Oak Bay, the Municipality of Esquimalt and that part of the Municipality of Saanich lying south of the centre lines of North Dairy Road, Richmond Avenue and Argyle Avenue, including Trial Island and off-shore islands.

Comox-Alberni, consisting of the territory bounded as follows: Commencing at the northeast corner of Range Cne (1) of coast land district, thence southerly along the easterly boundary of the said coast land district to the northerly boundary of New Westminster land district, thence westerly along the said northerly boundary of New Westminster land district to the height of land between the waters flowing into Jervis Inlet on the east and Powell Lake on the west; thence southerly along the said height of land and the height of land between the waters flowing into Jervis Inlet on the east and Lois River on the west to the head waters of the creek flowing into Baker Bay (west) through Lot Three Thousand Five Hundred and Fifty-Seven (3557) of New Westminster land district; thence southerly and southwesterly along the centre lines of the said creek, Baker Bay (west), Hotham Sound, and Jervis Inlet, passing west of Hardy Island to the westerly boundary of New Westminster land district; thence southeasterly along the said westerly boundary of New Westminster land district to a point due west of Prospect Point lighthouse; thence southwesterly through the Strait of Georgia and middle channel passing to the north of Newcastle Island through Departure Bay to the northeast corner of Mountain land district; thence westerly along the northerly boundary of the said Mountain land district and the northerly boundary of Dunsmuir land district to the northwest corner of the said Dunsmuir land district; thence southerly along the westerly boundary of the said Dunsmuir land district to the easterly boundary of Barclay land district; thence southeasterly along the said easterly boundary of Barclay land district to the centre line of Nitinat Creek; thence southwesterly following the centre line of Nitinat Creek and the centre line of Nitinat Lake to the westerly coast of Vancouver Island; thence northwesterly following the said westerly coast, including all off-shore islands, to the fifty-first parallel of north latitude; thence easterly along the said fifty-first parallel to the point of commencement.

NANAIMO BOUNDARIES

Nanaimo, consisting of that part of Vancouver Island, including all off-shore islands, lying south of the electoral district of Comox hereinbefore defined and west of New Westminster land district, excepting thereout the electoral district of Victoria hereinafter defined.

Proposed Constituencies on Island

THE above sketch indicates the changes in the Federal ridings as proposed at Ottawa. Victoria district would include the city, Oak Bay and Esquimalt municipalities, and a small part of Saanich. Nanaimo would include a line drawn from Departure Bay along the north boundary of Dunsmuir land district and extended to the E. & N. Railway belt, then south to the Nitinat River, which it would follow to the sea. All north of Nanaimo district, and a considerable portion of the Mainland now included in North Vancouver, would give Comox-Alberni a tremendously large district. This would bring in to the Island constituency Powell River, the islands between Vancouver Island and the Mainland, and the inlets from Hotham Sound, Jervis Inlet, to the north of Smith's Inlet, off Queen Charlotte Sound.

At the conclusion of eight deals, the two players scoring the most points will advance to the next table, and the pair making the lesser score will remain at original table.

Three tables of eight hands each, will complete the contest and the total points scored by each pair will be entered on the players' score cards, and must be signed by opponents.

The 1933 rules of contract bridge will apply on all questions and the decision of the committee in charge will be final.

Appropriate prizes for winners have been arranged and will be announced shortly.

TO GIVE ENTERTAINMENT

The C.G.I.T. department of the Metropolitan United Church will present an entertainment in the church schoolroom, tomorrow, at 8 p.m. The programme will consist of musical items and a drama entitled "Missionary Arithmetic." The public is invited to attend. A collection will be received.

Then there is the loyal co-op. member who sent for the undertaker when he was sick, instead of the doctor, because he wanted to cut out the middle man.

ANNOUNCE RULES OF BRIDGE PLAY

May 24 Celebration Committee Completes Arrangements for Championship Tournament

The general committee in charge of the May 24 celebration, being sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, last night completed the rules and regulations to govern the contract bridge tournament to be staged in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium on the evening of the holiday.

Play will commence promptly at 8 o'clock and the winners will be officially declared champions of Vancouver Island.

RULES OF PLAY

The following rules will govern the play:

Entries to be made in pairs. Players will be allotted tables and will keep the same partners all evening.

Eight deals to be made at each table, and in event of a hand or hands being passed out, an extra hand or hands to be played.

Two hundred points to be scored above the line for first game made, and 300 points for a second game. (No rubbers).

Players are vulnerable after having made a game. After a pair have scored two games, they are not vul

CHURCHES MOVE TO AMALGAMATE

First Baptist Approves and Emmanuel Church Postpones Final Vote

Members of the First Baptist Church, at a largely attended meeting here last night, unanimously endorsed the principle of amalgamation of the First Baptist with Emmanuel Baptist.

While the members of the First Baptist were in session at their own church, the congregation of Emmanuel were discussing the same measure, but no vote was taken and the discussion was postponed for two weeks, or until such time as further information is in hand.

It was the intimation of the two churches to hold their meetings on the one night, in order that a simultaneous vote might be taken to adopt or reject the proposal to amalgamate.

The question of amalgamating the two churches to centralize the work has been under discussion for some time, and the advisory boards of each had recommended to the members that the principle be approved. The delay, caused by the postponement of the decision of Emmanuel Church members, is not expected to hamper in any way the ultimate bringing together of the two, it is stated.

ESQUIMALT BOARD NAMES EXECUTIVE

A. Crane, Thomas Hadfield, W. J. Heald, J. E. McDonald and Captain R. P. Matheson were elected to the executive committee of the Esquimalt Board of Trade, at a meeting held last evening in the Parish Hall.

R. J. Wood, J. F. Bligh and Captain Matheson were appointed delegates to attend the convention of Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island, to be held at Saanichton, July 5 and 6.

The executive committee will meet next Wednesday, and officers for the year named.

Strongly Resents Mayor's Attitude

V. R. Midgley, member of the Trades and Labor Council, last night took strong objection to the attitude of Mayor David Leeming toward the labor organization.

Mayor Leeming, at a recent meeting of the City Council, stated he resented the interference with council matters by the Trades and Labor Council, and that the members of the City Council were elected to conduct the city's business, and were quite capable of doing so without the aid of the Trades and Labor Council.

Mr. Midgley took the position that all public bodies were open to criticism, and should not be above receiving constructive criticism. That the Trades and Labor Council had been vindicated in its criticism had been proven by the fact that the City Council had finally taken back former boulevard employees on the regular staff, he stated.

FEDERAL REDISTRIBUTION

The Redistribution Bill now before the Federal Parliament has occasioned many differences of opinion. The chief stumbling block is the attitude of the Quebec and Saskatchewan members. Difficulties affecting the other provinces have been composed in the redistribution committee, though they are liable to break out afresh when the Bill is debated in the House. In Quebec there is the fear that under redistribution as proposed there is the possibility of injustice to the French-Canadian population. In Saskatchewan it is the Liberals who are opposing the measure of redistribution. Saskatchewan has been a Liberal stronghold for quarter of a century. The new delimitation of certain constituencies is opposed because the Liberals do not desire to part with any of their present advantages.

The Redistribution Bill is now the most contentious measure before Parliament. If discussion of it interferes with the attempt to reach prorogation by a certain date it may be postponed until the next session. Perhaps that would be the best plan. The Bill has been brought down in the dying hours of the session. It is not one that should be digested hastily. Even in British Columbia our inhabitants should have the opportunity of canvassing what is proposed.

RECIPROCITY WITH U.S.A.

Whatever plans may be in view for a reciprocity treaty with the United States, Canada cannot act in this respect with a popular mandate. There has been a suggestion that a special session of Parliament may be called during the coming Autumn specifically to consider such a treaty and a St. Lawrence Waterway Treaty. Any report of this character has all the earmarks of being premature at the present. It is true that there has been discussion between the two Governments on both these subjects. In the matter of reciprocity any action must remain in abeyance until the results of the World Economic Conference are known. Whatever authority has been given to President Roosevelt he is not in a position to negotiate a separate trade treaty with Canada, and Canada is not in such a position without American action. The Senate is not ready to make the American President master of the tariff. If Congress refuses to act in this particular during its present session nothing can be done until January next. That means there would be no need for a special session at Ottawa.

If Canadian trade barriers are lowered to benefit United States producers, the manufacturing interests of the Dominion must suffer; labor must suffer as well, and transportation in this country will derive smaller revenues. Such tariff revisions are always threatened with mutability. Whatever might be the policies devised by President Roosevelt or by Mr. Bennett, there is no assurance that they would be maintained by their successors in office. There is no stable basis for reciprocity between two such countries. It is different with trade treaties within the Empire, and it is these, because of their comparative permanency, that should be fostered.

NEW IDEALS IN EDUCATION

A conference has been taking place at Oxford on "New Ideals in Education." How education is commencing to differ from what it was in the past is in that whereas fifty years ago the teacher had to have as a primary qualification a thorough knowledge of what it was proposed to teach, now there must be knowledge as well of the child to be taught. The time has come for another advance, according to the Bishop of Liverpool one of the speakers at the Oxford conference. A trial has been made of educating the child piecemeal; it has now become necessary to educate the child as a whole, and "to concentrate in thought and experiment upon his triple health in mind, body and spirit." This is not a new aim. It was anticipated centuries ago. In the meantime, however, knowledge has poured in on the human race and the teacher's task today is more complicated than it ever was before.

The Bishop of Liverpool believes that emphasis should be placed on the spiritual expression of the child. There are times in the schoolroom when the child ceases to listen to the teacher, when he is not trying to understand or indeed paying attention to anything he is told. He is wholly absorbed in some other task that attracts, awes and fascinates him. He is giving to that task of his powers freely. That is an example of the child's own self, which is essentially religious. It should be made a starting point in directing his self to God. The failure in the teaching of religion, according to the Bishop of Liverpool, is in imposing upon a child a response to a life that is different from his own, a life in which he would one day have experience, but which, for the time being, is remote. In other words, there is an assumption among teachers that a child is a miniature adult, but he is not. It should not be the object of education to din things into children until by very weariness they accept them. In the matter of religion it is not so much teaching as showing the light whereby the children will recognize the path. In some educational methods it is not recognized that the child is religious already and that all that is wanted is direction. The child cannot describe the religious sense he has. It is the response of the soul. Teachers cannot analyze it. What they should do, where religion is recognized as a part of education, is to build upon the religious sense which is already within the child. In conclusion, the Bishop of Liverpool said:

"I should have but little faith in the efforts that are being made to promote teaching, and even in the efforts to do a much better thing—namely, to educate, if it is not realized that those efforts are parts of God's activities and are bound up with the patient, persistent pressure of His revelation of Himself and of His purposes."

A GENTLEMAN UNAFRAID

It is twenty-one years after the event that an author has thought it worth while to set out in book form the story of "No Surrender Oates," that very gallant gentleman who sought death in the Antarctic snows so that Captain Scott and his companions might live. The story, in the course of years, will be incorporated as an epic in English history. The author of the book is L. C. Bernacchi who was physicist in the Southern Cross Expedition of 1898-1900, and of Captain Scott's Discovery Expedition of 1901-1904. He thus knows the hardships that accompany Polar exploration, and is well fitted to write of the act of sacrifice whereby Captain Oates laid down his life for his friends.

In his book Mr. Bernacchi tells of how Captain Oates' death was the "natural culmination" to his way of living. "He delighted," says the author, "in taking all kinds of chances, but he never left anything to chance." In his early years he had a propensity for tempting heavy weather in yachts; he rode hard before and after he joined the Inniskilling Dragoons. A silent man, sometimes described as a "cheerful pessimist," Captain Oates was forever seeking adventure. On the outbreak of the Boer War he immediately secured his transfer to South Africa, where in the fighting he was recommended for the V.C. He left India, where he kept a pack of hounds, to take a stableman's job with Captain Scott and was taken, though wholly untried in Polar exploration, as a member of Scott's Antarctic Expedition. Oates' name is now a household word among the English-speaking peoples. Without a word of farewell he walked into the Antarctic night to sacrifice himself in order that there might be enough food left for his companions.

A CONVERSION LOAN

The Dominion Government is securing authority from Parliament to raise a loan of as much as $750,000,000. The right is to be permissive, not mandatory; in other words, it all depends on the state of the money market as to the amount of money it will be considered advisable to raise when the time comes. The money is wanted to meet contingencies in financing, to carry on refunding or conversion as the state of the market determines. The Government is not looking for large sums of new money. Most of the amount to be raised will be for refunding. It is felt that with the financial policy that Canada has pursued, a policy of "sound money," it will not be difficult to convert loans falling due at a lower rate of interest, thus effecting substantial savings to the taxpayers. On this basis any conversion loan, appealed for in a broad patriotic way, should meet with a whole-hearted response.

Sir Alan Cobham is planning a non-stop refuelling flight from England to Australia in an Airspeed Courier monoplane. The machine has a total fuel capacity of 288 gallons, or enough for twenty-six hours flight. On the proposed trip refuelling will be done in flight from four or five aircraft to be met at fixed points. The machine has been tried and can fly 165 miles an hour. The flight proposed is not for spectacular purposes but as a practical undertaking.

The fastest military aircraft in the world has been produced for the Royal Air Force by the H. G. Hawker Engineering Company. It travels 250 miles an hour with full military equipment. The engine is a supercharged Rolls-Royce Kestrel. What has been aimed at in construction is decreased resistance to the air. To this end the wings are of short span and elliptical shape and streamlined "fairings" are used over the wheels.

MONARCHISM IN CHINA

The experiment in Manchuria is regarded by the Chinese most intimately concerned in it as a sort of trial trip, which may, if circumstances are favorable, end on the Dragon Throne. That is why the ex-Emperor, in his new post, has been given the old, non-committal title of "Chief Executive." Undue haste, as the Imperialists well understand, would be fatal to their hopes. But time means nothing to China. The vast masses of Northerners know nothing of Republicanism, and look upon the twenty-one years that have elapsed since China professed to adopt it, as one of the normal periods of chaos between dynasties, a mere fraction as yet of some that have been known.—O. M. Green, in The Fortnightly Review.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

He that is of reason's skill bereft,
And wants the staff of wisdom him to stay,
Is like a ship in midst of tempest left,
Without an helm or pilot her to sway:
Full sad and dreadful is that ship's event,
So is the man that wants intendiment.

There seems to be something peculiar, even something abnormal, about the German mentality. There are German settlements in Canada and more German settlements in the United States. The Germans in those settlements have proved themselves to be good and loyal citizens, eminently law-abiding and extremely industrious. Both Canada and the United States, before the depression altered the circumstances, would have been glad to extend a cordial welcome to more German settlers.

So we were going to write that the peculiar German temperament must be due to environment; that the Germans abroad are not subject to the mental aberrations which periodically assail the Germans at home; but when the war fever broke out in Germany in 1914, it attacked the Germans in the United States just as virulently as it attacked the Germans in Germany. If the war spirit was not so conspicuous in Canada during the great conflict, that may have been because the Germans in Canada were comparatively few in number and the opportunities for sneaking attacks upon war services were more limited. In the early stages of the war German agents and spies were numerous in the United States, and they carried on a persistent local warfare against the Allies. No series attempt to check this peculiar and unusual form of warfare was made until the United States was forced into the war largely as a result of information supplied to the High Command by German-American agents and spies.

In Germany today another spasm of war emotion has broken out and is raging violently. The excuse for the war of 1914 was that Germany must have her place in the sun. If the Germany of 1933 actually is determined upon war, the excuse will be that Germany has been denied her place in the sun and that no power on earth has the right to deny the place she covets. A few days ago we quoted a passage from a book written by Jerome K. Jerome after that once popular writer had finished a tour of Germany, during which he made a study of the character of the German people. Mr. Jerome's conclusion from what he had seen and heard was that "anybody could govern the German people," because they were so simple and law-abiding; they were as obedient as serfs to the commands of the higher authorities.

* * *

The conclusion of everybody who has read the history of Germany and what has been happening in Germany within the last year or two is that almost anybody can become a National leader in Germany. The late Kaiser led the Germans for about forty years, and during that long period he led them along the paths of peace. But the Kaiser was merely a painted lath, as later events proved. The real leader of the German people during the greater part of the reign of the last of the Hohenzollerns was Bismarck, the Iron Chancellor. But for the shrewd judgment and the iron discipline of the Count the spasms of martial emotion to which the Teutonic race is subject would have broken bounds, and long before the year 1914 the Kaiser's cherished and nourished ambition to lead Germany in war would have been gratified.

Germany has had many political leaders since the historic occasion on which the Kaiser dropped his pilot; but it has had no competent leader since that time. Bismarck successfully suppressed and stifled the spasmodic emotions of the Kaiser and of the German people. The present leader of Germany sprang up from nowhere in particular like a gourd or a mushroom in the night. But Hitler seems to be endowed with qualities which appeal strongly to a spasmodically emotional people. He is the leader of a movement which has swept over the Fatherland like a flood. If the Kaiser was a dreamer of vain dreams, Hitler is a weaver of absurd phantasies. He has told and appears to have convinced the Germans that the departed prestige and the lost possessions of the Empire will be restored to them. He has gone much farther than the Kaiser ever did in extolling the glories of war and the virtues of patriotic self-sacrifice. He has told the German women that it is their duty to bear men-children eager and willing to die in the trenches; that their supreme duty is to become housewives and leave all other duties to be discharged by the men.

* * *

Well, it is possible that the salvation of Germany may be accomplished by the German women. Surely it is not possible that those robust and capable women, mentally as well as physically, can be as docile as the creatures who flock like sheep in the tracks of the near-imbecile they have "dressed in a little brief authority." If the German situation cannot be dealt with internally, there is ample reason for the alarm which has been aroused throughout Europe by that situation. For the Abbot of Unreason is dancing like a dervish these days in Germany.

'Slams and Salaams'

By H. T. M.

You can take your wife for a walk and more or less keep her "at heel"; similarly, you can lope o'er moor and fen with your small daughter and still maintain a modicum of parental mastery; but, with a wife and a small daughter, and an utterly brainless "Boston Bull"—well, it's a foolish man who takes this "Unholy Three" for a second plunge into this unprecedented and unwarrantable sort of perambulatory Inferno.

Some time ago ("'Twas on a Summer's evening; Old Kaspar's work was done," so to speak), while mulling to the exotic rays of the westering sun, I said to Mildred (the "good madame"): "We've an hour before dinner—what about a stroll?" "Lovely," she said, graciously, and in the same second, Hyacinth (daughter) piped up, "Oh, goodee. Let's all go for a walk!" "Excellent," I beamed like a condescending old sea-lion, "and what about Peter (dog)?" "No!" voiced Mildred and Hyacinth in emphatic unison. "Peter's terrible! He fights everything in sight—barges into people's legs—leaps into babies' prams—and, and, oh, he's just too awful!" "Nonsense," I contended. "Women just don't know how to handle dogs. Leave him to me." "All right," said the ladies of the menage, "but you'll be good and sorry!" "Pouf!" I retorted. "Let's go!"

So, out the back door and down the King's Highway. Green buds sprouting on the bough; sparrows twittering sonnets to their brides on the telephone wires; the sun is a dwindling sickel of blood, thinning into mauve and saffron, ahint the creamy peaks of the Olympics; and everything's just too lovely for description. Came a crossing. "Which way, dear?" I asked jauntily of Mildred. "Whatever way you like, dear," she replied, with a ripple of a smile. "Oh, come now," I countered. "It's all the same to me. You decide." "No, darling—it's up to you." "Don't be silly." "I'm not being silly." Mildred stiffened a bit. "It's your walk—and it's up to you." "It's not my walk any more than yours," I argued; "please decide. "I can't," said Mildred. "That's a bit stupid," I replied loftily. "Can't make up your mind whether you'll go left, or right, or straight ahead—ha, ha—how very feminine!" "No stupider than you, you block-headed old ——" "Mildred," I interrupted, in a tone that I imagined was both dignified and imperious, "we started on a walk. Now, which way?" "Oh, any way—you give me a pain—straight ahead—and don't be such an old crank." Come along then. Come along, Hyacinth," I commanded icily; "your father's an old crank—but never mind—we're going for a lovely walk—your mother thinks—hey! Peter! Peter! Down, you dirty little pig! Down! Down!" "No good bellowing at him," admonished Mildred. "He'll tear that woman's dress to pieces before you even begin to know what it's all about—quick—grab his hind legs!" "I can't," I said bitterly. "They're like bumble-bees. Peter! Down! Blast you! Madame, I'm most terribly sorry." I offered a handkerchief to the enraged person on whom Peter had lavished so much mud and affection. "Is there much damage?" "Damage, indeed? My dress is a complete ruin," she announced, with crimson rising about her wattles. "That dog should be killed!" "Impossible, madam. He's been run over fifty times; had twenty thousand fights; everybody in the neighborhood has taken a pot-shot at him with a brick or a boot. I'm terribly sorry. What can I do about it?" "Well, one thing," snapped the outraged person, "you can buy me a new dress. My address is XYZ, and the 'ensemble' cost $75.00. It was new today. My husband will call on you. Good afternoon!"

"Ha, ha," smirked Mildred as the lady swished truculently into a beer-parlor. "Maybe that will teach you! Ha, ha, ha — HEAVENS! Where's Hyacinth? Hy-acinth! Hy-acinth!! HY-A-CINTHHHHH!!! Good Lord—she doesn't answer! Do something, quick. She's been run over! I know it, I know it!" "Rats!" I said with forced nonchalance, "she's probably just ahead somewhere. Hy-acinth!" I called airily, "where are you—and why don't you answer? Hy-acinth! Answer at once!" "She's lost—she's run over — somebody's kidnapped her," wailed Mildred. "Don't be absurd. We'll search for her. You go that way around the block, and I'll go this way—and meet again here—see?" "All right," Mildred agreed for once in her life, and off she went at a light canter, shouting, "Hyacinth, Hyacinth," at small intervals.

My way led by a deep ditch. Maybe Hyacinth had fallen in? Better look. The ditch was broad and overgrown with shrubs, and six inches of "gumbo" enhanced its bottom. I couldn't see a thing. "Hyacinth!" I called quite feverishly, "where are you." No response. Where is she? In the ditch? No—couldn't be! Why "couldn't be"? Why not "might be." Yes—"might be." Ye gods! Into the ditch. Squelch, squelch, squoish. Briers in the face; hat flicked off by a branch; grey flannels oozing with muck; just three hundreds yards of this, and the ditch end—but no Hyacinth. Things were looking bad, and I was getting that foul, "harassed-parent" feeling. Beyond the ditch stood an ancient rock-crusher. Hyacinth had a veritable passion for climbing. Heavens—had she scaled this damn thing and fallen into the "hopper"? Was she even now a bloody, little lifeless bundle among the cruel crushed rocks at the bottom of this vile contraption? Oh, Lord! Running now. Scrambling up the "hopper." There's a splayed cable spiking my thigh, and my forearm's grating on the rusty edge of the machine, as I scramble furiously in the last upward heave that leaves me flapping like a dry flounder on the top. "Hyacinth, Hyacinth," I voiced hoarsely. "Where are you, dear? Answer Daddy!" (Not a peep!) The "hopper" is deep—and dark. Oh, my little one. Are you there at the bottom—a crimson, gasping little ruin? "Hyacinth, Hyacinth!" It's very dark. I lean forward a bit and call again. No answer. She must be dead! All smashed up and juicy, at the bottom of this filthy arrangement. I lean a little farther forward and peer, gnome-like, into the murk below. (Not a sound.) Got a—good Lord! Something moved down there. "Hyacinth!" In a jittering state, I grope into the blackness with a delirious hand. I feel nothing but black, lethal air. I stretch forward and wave, more frantically. This moves my body. The "hopper" edge is old. It starts to crackle and crunch. Then it sways a bit. Now a horrible rending sound. Help! Help! I'm rocking like a sailor. Help! Crash, clatter, clash! My wreckage is now spread over the rocks at the "hopper" bottom. Every bone in my body is half-broken, and there's blood trickling down my collar. But Hyacinth is not here. For a few seconds I relax on the crushed rocks. Where is Hyacinth? Where—what's that? My ears tense themselves. There are voices. A-a-ah! "Alfred!" floats softly on the cool Summer breeze—and, "Daddy," and "Arf, arf, arf!"—that's the whole damn family! Hooray!

Like a man possessed, I collect my bits and heave them up to the edge of this cryptic piece of machinery, and allow them to take a "look see." Ah—and what a "look see" it is. Mildred is smiling like something from another world. Hyacinth (little pet) has a handful of daisies and is skipping along with Peter. How sweet they look. How lovely to see them all again! (Yes—even Peter looks semi-palatable.) "Darling," I addressed Mildred, "you found her—eh? And she isn't hurt?" "No, dear," laughs Mildred, "she was just playing." "How adorable," I enthused. "She's such a wag," commented her mamma; "how she loves pulling one's leg!" "Eh?" I ventured with dawning suspicions. "What do you mean, 'pulling one's leg'?" "Why—just hiding!" "What do you mean?" "Oh—just hiding." "Where?" I hissed the question. "Just behind the bush where we started shouting for her." Mildred laughed rapturously. "Do you call that funny?" I screamed. "Yes. But just at present—you look a darnside funnier. Look, Hyacinth. Look at Dad. Doesn't he look funny with his clothes all torn and his face all scratched—ha, ha, ha!" "Oh, yes," agreed witty little Hyacinth, "Dad looks just like the scarecrow in the Wizard of Oz! Tee, hee, hee!" (Then the lust to slay gripped me. But God must have intervened. Mildred and Hyacinth are alive and well today. But they ain't "going walkies" with Poppa no more—and that's final. Neither is Peter. Brrr!)

PUPILS' RECITAL

Sir,—Kindly accept my sincere thanks for the very nice write-up you gave me in connection with the recital of my pupils, held last Saturday afternoon in the Shrine auditorium.

Might I mention two slight errors. Marian Skellern's name was not mentioned as accompanist. She accompanied two songs, and Winifred Moorhouse's name was not mentioned. She took part in the programme, played a piano solo and received a prize for the sale of the most tickets. OLIVE CAMPBELL.

THE SEALING SEASON

Sir,—From The Hague, Holland, come an appeal for signatures to a protest to be made to the Governments of Uruguay, Colombia, Canada, United States and Soviet Russia, in connection with the seal trade.

The alleged cruelties perpetrated during the seal-killing season have excited considerable comment in many countries. Persons wishing to sign this protest, or secure further information, may do so at 315 Sayward Building, Victoria, B.C.

"LEST WE FORGET"

Sir,—These words should stand for noble principles; but do they with all? The authorities at Ottawa apparently wish to wipe them out. After the Armistice members of the 1st Division were each given a little red emblem, by our divisional general, with the above words on the back. I have one, and am proud of it because it reminds me of three things: First, the giver; second, the comradeship; third, the reason.

At the present time, when sinister rumors are about, backed by leading articles in some of our daily papers, that the Government will, or is contemplating either lowering the pensions of all disabled soldiers or cutting them out altogether for the sake of economy, as they term the idea, in times such as these, it behooves the country as a whole, especially our politicians, to take to heart the above words. If the people of Canada are going to let the Government have its way, then Remembrance Day is nothing but a sham and a farce. On that day thousands gather to remember the brave men who gave up their lives to save Canada, with other parts of the Empire, but if we are real Christians and believe in a Resurrection, are they not far better off being free from pain and worry than those disabled men that abound in Canada maimed in health and body and limb? What are the wishes of our dead if they could speak? To the Governments of Canada we ask that you look after, and provide for, the widows, orphans and disabled until not one liveth.

Lest we forget, what? Of the men who fought to save Canada, how many came back in as good health as when they left; not one. Whilst some may be able to get by without a pension, yet their span of life has been cut down. What about all disabled pensioners? How many of us have had to alter our living due to our disability? How many of us have had good education, training, etc., but cannot, through disability, take the line of work which would have been the case had there been no war.

The politicians of today, whether Federal or provincial, owe their positions to two causes, namely: First, through the sacrifices of the returned men; second, by election of the people to represent them and their wishes. Is it the will of the people of Canada that the returned men have further sacrifices heaped on them because of mismanagement and scandalous waste of public money due to graft, etc., by both Federal and provincial politicians? Surely not. If all our politicians went through hell fire as did the men who fought to save Canada from being under the heel of Germany, they would always bear in mind those three words. It is not the pensions paid that ruin a country, but such ruin can be the system adopted for paying such. If a war broke out tomorrow money would be found, so let's hear no more foolish talk. All ex-service men must join an organization and show a solid front. In ending, remember, Lest we forget. CECIL J. BAILEY.

INFLUENZA

Sir,—It appears, from various sources, that there is considerable questioning as to the cause of Influenza.

In a recent article, the widely-known medical superintendent of the Washington, D.C., Sanitarium, Dr. O. S. Parrett declared that at a meeting a few days previously he heard the Dean of Toronto University say, "In diseases the emphasis is gradually shifting from bacteria and infection to food." He quoted further from the dean that "many diseased conditions formerly thought to be due to bacteria toxins, for example, rheumatism, are found to be due to chemical poisons set up by wrong dietary habits."

It is surely gratifying to see medical leaders gradually coming to the conclusion that ill health is the penalty we pay for breaking the laws of Nature and health. Common sense is removing germs from the pedestal they have formerly enjoyed as the scapegoat of disease.

Dr. Parrett continued his article by quoting another writer on health topics: "The disease and suffering that everywhere prevail are largely due to popular errors of diet."

Coming down to a specific case the doctor refers to Denmark. During the last year of the war, Denmark was forced to live almost 100 per cent on a lacto-vegetarian diet. Because of the Allies' blockade, meat was almost unknown. "The result," says Dr. Parrett, "was that Denmark during that year had the lowest death rate of any nation in the entire history of the world. It had no flu epidemic, although flu was a world scourge from Greenland's icy mountains to India's coral strand. The flu death rate in Denmark was no higher during that year than in the year previous or the year after."

It is well known that meat is not a healthful food, due to the toxins and purins it contains. It is a food but being second hand is very inferior to first hand proteins. A third indictment against meat is that it stands at the top of the acid foods. This, undoubtedly, is the reason why Denmark escaped the 1918 flu epidemic. The lack of meat in the diet building up a favorable alkaline balance.

The prominent health lecturer of Toronto, Dr. Robert G. Jackson, has lived on a preponderantly alkaline (lacto-vegetarian) diet for many years. For just that long he has not had a cold. He avers that it is impossible to have a cold if the system has a favorable alkaline balance, if common sense is used in other regards. If a cold is impossible on an alkaline diet the cold's offspring—influenza—must also be. He also condemns the use of tea and coffee, not only because of the acid reaction, but also because they are in the nature of narcotics.

There are, of course, other points related to keeping healthy. A constant supply of fresh air, day and night, is positively necessary. A daily walk of three miles is ideal. Many could secure this by walking to and from work. Other exercise is needed, and there is nothing better than gardening; this is just the way to receive the sunshine needed. Proper and regular hours of sleep, six or more glasses of water daily and a shower bath on rising. Temperance in all good things and abstaining from everything harmful, and a peaceful mind by trusting in Divine power, conclude some simple requirements of health.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the new Esquimalt drydock add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

CANADA STILL TOURIST HAVEN

Statisticians See No Reason for Alarm Because of Beer Laws in U.S.

Whatever happens across the line in the way of modification of liquor laws, the Dominion of Canada need not be unduly alarmed concerning the future of the tourist traffic, is the opinion given in the monthly commercial letter for May, published by the Canadian Bank of Commerce and received here, yesterday.

The letter says in part:

With conditions changing rapidly and drastically almost from day to day, it is manifestly impossible to make any estimate of the tourist trade in 1933. Business conditions, which are, of course, the dominant factor, are not likely to undergo rapid improvement. The present vacillating rate of exchange will doubtless steady, but the direction of its course is unpredictable at the present juncture.

The World's Fair in Chicago will certainly attract a great number of American automobile tourists, who may continue their journey into Canada if its attractions are adequately presented. It has already been established that there will be considerable traffic with short stop-overs from the New England states via Canadian routes to the World's Fair and the conventions which are being held in connection therewith.

ADVANCE BUSINESS

Advance bookings for ocean travel are light to date, and the low rates which featured this class of travel during the past two years are not likely to be renewed as they proved of little value in stimulating traffic. Fort Erie, in the Province of Ontario, one of the three main points of entry for vehicular traffic, reports a sharp decline in the number of cars entering Canada via the Peace Bridge during the first quarter of the year. Figures for the first three months in recent years are given as follows: 1931, 263,802; 1932, 225,899; 1933, 154,917. Statistics for the Winter season obviously have little bearing on the main tourist traffic, and the influences of inclement weather and a late Spring are also reflected in the figures, but they do indicate that the number of Americans travelling, whether as tourists or commercially, is greatly reduced. This is borne out also by reports from the British West Indies and Cuba. The former have had a very satisfactory Winter Season, an increase in visitors from Great Britain and Canada, who were evidently attracted by the favorable rate of exchange, offsetting a decline in those from the United States. Cuba, with its exchange tied to the American dollar, reports a very poor tourist season and the average rate of expenditure low.

A factor, the importance of which is difficult to ascertain, is the extent to which Canada has benefited by the more liberal liquor laws prevailing in this country as compared with the United States, and what, if any, will be the effect of the recent beer legislation in that country.

LIQUOR LAWS

It is not unreasonable to assume that the moderation of our laws has played some part in attracting conventions for instance, but its allurements for the average tourist are probably well summed up in the following extract from The Cleveland, Ohio, Plain Dealer: "Beer or no beer, further reduction (in the tourist trade) might be expected this year. But one feels that the Canadians need not be unduly alarmed. The Dominion is such a glorious vacation country that its holiday assets should continue to pay good dividends to those who help make the visitors' stay a pleasant one. And in spite of the time-worn jests to the contrary, there are thousands of American tourists in Canada who never have been bottle-minded."

You've seen people with ulcers, haven't you? They don't dare to eat, can't hold food in their stomachs, doubled up in pain severe enough to drive a wooden statue crazy, always full of gas, unable to sleep or work—and look ready for the grave.

Now you don't want those simple (?) attacks of sour, acid-stomach to pull you down like that, do you? And yet, medical men say that as high as 85% of stomach ulcers are caused by over-acidity!

Dietex, that wonderful new prescription for acid stomach troubles, has won thousands of grateful friends throughout the land, because it neutralizes irritating acids in a few seconds after it reaches the distressed stomach. Broadcast Reporter Claims Statements Made Here Concerning Meal Tax Are Not True

Claiming the statements concerning a radio broadcast referring to the imposition of a tax on meals in British Columbia were not according to fact, a telegram was received by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau yesterday from the news reporter of a national network offering to correct any misunderstanding regarding the specified broadcast. He is sending to the bureau a copy of the broadcast in which reference to the meal tax was made.

The telegram stated it was untrue that prospective tourists had been warned to keep away from British Columbia, and also offers to broadcast, without expense, publicity for Victoria as soon as received from the bureau.

The statement concerning the radio broadcast was made in a protest, received by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce here, against the meal tax.

Finds Riot Victim Hit By Missile

SASKATOON, May 17 (CP).—"We find Lorne J. Sampson met his death as a result of being struck on the head by some hard object thrown during a disturbance at the Exhibition Grounds, which stunned him and caused him to fall from his horse, resulting in injuries which caused his death."

This was the verdict returned last night by a coroner's jury inquiring into the death of Inspector L. J. Sampson, who met death May 8, during a riot at the relief camp here, when mounted policemen clashed with employees of the camp.

Evidence given by Constable E. R. MacDonald, one of Inspector Sampson's troop, was that he had seen a man, whom he had later identified as Herbert Furlong, throw a missile which hit the inspector on the right temple, when the witness was about twenty feet away.

TRADE ENVOY TO JAVA IS COMING

G. R. Heasman, Canadian Commissioner at Batavia, Will Make Tour of Canada

G. R. Heasman, Canadian trade commissioner at Batavia, Java, is expected to arrive in Victoria early in June for the purpose of making a business tour through the Dominion in the interests of Canadian trade with the Middle East.

The Batavia office covers Netherlands India, British Malaya and Siam, which have a total population of 75,000,000, of which the island of Java alone — the most densely populated country in the world—has 42,000,000. Imports during 1933 are estimated at $408,000,000, of which Netherlands India is credited with $158,000,000, British Malaya with $215,000,000, and Siam with $35,000,000.

The territories of the Middle East, with their over-production of rubber, sugar, tea and tin, are, like most other countries of the world, in the midst of a great economic depression. Notwithstanding present conditions, however, there are signs that by the end of 1933 an improvement will be observable in trade generally. Canadian manufacturers are accordingly urged to prepare themselves now for the new business which is bound to follow a trade revival. Rubber estates, sugar mills, tea factories and tin mines have, during the past two or three years, undertaken only a bare minimum of repair work, and in fact many of them have completely closed down. With an improvement in trade, there will develop a brisk demand for supplies, some of which Canada can undoubtedly furnish.

ENLARGED TARIFF

As a result of the Ottawa Economic Conference, British Malaya, which last year took $215,000,000 worth of imports, has now not only a very enlarged tariff but a long list of British preferential duties which should help Canadian exporters to secure business which previously had not been possible. British Malaya comprises three political divisions known as the Straits Settlements, the Federated Malay States, and the Unfederated Malay States. The Straits Settlements, with the exception of a few commodities—chiefly wines, liquors, and motor cars—has no tariff or preferential duties, but the two other political divisions grant preferential duties to Canadian imports on some or all of the commodities.

"Canada has satisfactory shipping facilities to and from these territories, both on the Atlantic and Pacific. British Columbia exporters especially, with their comparatively close proximity to these territories, should give these markets more consideration than they have done in the past. With the larger markets of Australia and New Zealand engaging their attention, the small but valuable markets centring round the port of Singapore have been neglected. Although initial orders may be small, it is the contact which counts, and when times improve, orders should also increase so that Canadian manufacturers will find themselves receiving worthwhile business," says the May issue of Commercial Intelligence Journal.

OTTAWA, May 17 (CP).—"Conscription is not the policy of Canada or of this Government," the House of Commons was told last night by Hon. Donald Sutherland, Minister of National Defence.

SUMMER ISLAND TOURING BEGINS

Auto Club Already Providing Information for Trans-Continental and British Columbia Trips

Interest in the Victoria branch of the Automobile Club of British Columbia is still evident by the fact that the membership is somewhat greater than it was last year at this time, R. R. Webb, local secretary, stated last night.

"Already numbers of routes and schedules have been provided for transcontinental and other trips, which seems to indicate that touring this season will be equal to, if not in excess, of a year ago," he said. "Adequate provision is being made for furnishing complete touring information and maps for those wishing to tour either Vancouver Island or other districts, as well as comprehensive plans for supplying visitors to the Island with all requirements in respect to roads, stopping places and service stations," Mr. Webb continued.

"The club's new office, established in the Crystal Garden building, is especially adapted to its work, as it is not difficult to locate and is slightly outside the business area, which allows for convenient parking," concluded Mr. Webb.

MANY NOTED SCIENTISTS COMING HERE

Pacific Science Delegates Will Spend Three Days in Victoria

THIRTY COUNTRIES TO BE REPRESENTED

For the first meeting of its kind on this side of the Pacific Ocean, scientists from practically every country bordering on the Pacific will assemble in Victoria on Thursday, June 1.

The congress will open its official sessions here and delegates will remain in the city until Sunday, when they will go to Vancouver to continue meetings until June 14.

The congress is meeting in the Dominion at the invitation of the Government of Canada and under the auspices of the National Research Council, which has full charge of all arrangements connected with the conference.

Invitations have been sent to some thirty countries interested in scientific research, and if all countries send a full quota of representatives, the attendance will reach between 400 and 500 delegates, but the congress does not anticipate more than 300 quota representatives.

NOTABLE VISITORS

In any event, the congress will embrace scores of notable foreign visitors, as well as representatives of the official, industrial and scientific walks of life in Canada. It will be one of the most, if not the most, important gatherings ever held on the Pacific Coast.

Provision has been made for the entertainment of the visiting delegates in Victoria at luncheon, dinners, and on short excursions to local points of interest, after the close of the official morning meetings. In this way the visitors will have an opportunity of viewing points of industrial and scientific interest in the vicinity of Victoria and the Mainland city.

VICTORIA PROGRAMME

Briefly, the programme for Victoria is as follows: Thursday morning, official opening; afternoon, visit to Observatory and Mr. Butchart's Gardens, and the first meeting of the Pacific Science Council. Friday morning, first general meeting and reports of standing committees appointed at the Java conference. Saturday morning, first congress symposium; afternoon, garden party at Government House. The delegates will leave on Sunday morning for Nanaimo, en route to Vancouver.

The congress will reassemble at Vancouver on Monday morning, June 5, and will hold meetings daily until the afternoon of June 15. In the evening the party will leave for the post-congress tour, which will carry the delegates through British Columbia and to Calgary, reaching the Alberta city on June 19.

GROUP LEADERS

The conference is divided into two main divisions, viz., biological sciences and physical sciences. The biological science division will be under the direction of Dr. Charles McLean Fraser, Vancouver, and Dean R. W. Brock will be chairman of the physical sciences group.

The biological group is divided into sections, with the following as chairmen: Agriculture, Dean F. M. Clement, Vancouver; anthropology and ethnology, Diamond Jenness, Ottawa; animal diseases, Dr. E. A. Bruce, Saanichton; botany and plant pathology, Dr. A. H. Hutchison, Vancouver; entomology, Prof. G. J. Spencer, Vancouver; fisheries, Dr. R. E. Forester, Nanaimo; forestry, P. Z. Caverhill, Victoria, and zoology, Dr. W. A. Clemens, Nanaimo.

The following will be chairmen of the physical sciences group: Astronomy, Dr. J. S. Plaskett, Victoria; geodesy and geography, Noel J. Ogilvie, Ottawa; geology and mineral resources, Dr. S. J. Schofield, Vancouver; oceanography, Dr. C. McLean Fraser, Vancouver; meteorology and terrestial magnetism, John Patterson, Toronto; radio, Dean A. S. Eve, Montreal, and seismology and volcanology, Dr. E. A. Hodgson.

THIRTY REMANDED ON RIOT CHARGE

Man Named as Thrower of Fatal Missile Receives No Different Treatment

SASKATOON, May 17 (CP).—In slow procession, thirty men, charged with rioting at the relief camp here on May 8, when Inspector L. J. Sampson, R.C.M.P., met his death, were remanded in city police court this morning until May 25.

Accused were represented in court by F. J. G. Cunningham, Regina barrister, who raised no objection to the remand. Bail for the men has not been set.

Henry Furling, named at the inquest Tuesday night, as a man who hit Inspector Sampson with a stone or other missile, was among those who appeared in court. He faced the same charge as the other alleged rioters.

LOW WAGES PROTESTED

Trades and Labor Council Ask for Meeting on Minimum Wage Question

Coupled with a request from the Trades and Labor Council that the Provincial Government call a meeting of employers here to see that employees at least receive the minimum wages they are entitled to, will be a specific protest against the wages paid in lumber mills.

At last night's meeting of the Labor Council, innumerable cases of persons receiving less than the minimum wage were cited, and it was felt that the meetings to be held in Vancouver and in Penticton on the question also should be extended to Victoria by the Government.

It was pointed out by one delegate that he knew of women who had to work for five dollars a month and board, while several protested vigorously against the wages paid in the mills, claiming that men were paid only from fifteen to eighteen cents an hour, and that the price of lumber had not come down correspondingly. If the price of lumber was the same, then the wages should be the same as those paid before the mills closed, the council contended.

A resolution protesting particularly against the mill wages will be forwarded to Hon. W. M. Dennies, newly-appointed Minister of Labor.

CONDITIONS VARIED

Many of the areas were found to be carrying loans beyond even the normal ability of the land to produce equivalent payments to meet carrying charges. Some areas had paid fully up to date, others had paid in part and were partly in arrears, and a few had made no payments at all. In about nine of the areas it was possible that there will be no need for readjustment, out of the twenty-three visited.

The survey was undertaken in respect to past loans, as distinct from recent loans made from the Conservation fund. The principles set out in the Sanford Evans report may in the end be the guiding factor.

Mr. Lougheed's recommendations will go before the Government shortly for consideration, and until then it will not be known what attitude the Province will take in respect to detailed adjustment at various points.

As the review was undertaken with a view to facing the facts as they exist in each area, it is to be assumed the Government will follow out the recommendations of its investigating officials.

MORE CONSERVATIVE MINISTERS TO QUIT UNIONIST CABINET

mier Tolmie stated that the Cabinet would be reduced in size to eight ministers, including himself. When, Tuesday, the Premier issued a statement referring to the appointment of Hon. Mr. Dennies as being included in the "Unionist" Government, the Conservative Government which had been elected in 1928 under his leadership, automatically passed out of existence, to be replaced by the "Unionist" Government. This means, then, that two additional "Unionist" ministers will shortly be appointed, one of which, according to a previous declaration on the part of the Premier, will be without portfolio.

Premier Tolmie has, himself, occupied the Ministry of Railways. Other ministries have been: Attorney-General, Public Works, Finance, Mines, Agriculture, Lands, Education and Provincial Secretary. In addition there have been two ministers without portfolio. There were also other departments, or ministries, which, for purposes of administration, were operated by ministers in conjunction with other portfolios. These were Fisheries, Industries, Labor and Railways.

PROBABLE DISTRIBUTION

With the elevation of Labor to a full-time ministry, it is considered unlikely that any additional portfolio will be allotted to Hon. Mr. Dennies. This means, then, that Premier Tolmie and five ministers will have to carry between them ten portfolios.

Inclusion of one additional minister with portfolio, yet to be announced and sworn in, suggests that the four ministers to be carried over into the Unionist Government from the Conservative Administration will of necessity, assume the burden of the administrative work.

It is generally assumed that Premier Tolmie will himself carry the portfolio of Agriculture. Hon. J. W. Jones will continue to carry his portfolios of Finance and Industries. Fisheries will, in all probability, be attached to the duties of the Attorney-General. Railways may be expected to go with Public Works, while Mines and Lands may be consolidated.

This allocation would leave two of the most important portfolios in Government to be filled by a new man. They are portfolios of Provincial Secretary and Education. It is understood that the Premier is seeking an outstanding educationalist for this dual position.

WORLD PEACE APPEAL MADE

Children of Wales Send Good-Will Message to Nations of the Earth

The children of Wales, in keeping with their annual practice, will send a radio message to the children of the nations of the earth today, which has been set aside as International Good-Will Day.

A copy of this message has been received by Mrs. Allen P. Sinclair, of Lethbridge, who is now in Victoria.

THE MESSAGE

The message follows:

"Boys and girls of all nations:

"We, the children of Wales, once again greet you on Good-Will Day.

"In this Springtime of 1933, there are all over the earth millions of children who are unhappy because their fathers and their brothers have no work to do. We do not know why there should be so much sorrow in a world which is so beautiful, and so much want in a world which is so rich.

NEED NEW SPIRIT

"We believe that this would not happen if all nations to which we belong would live and work together as members of one family, trusting one another and enjoying together the riches of the earth. We believe, too, that by our thoughts we can help to bring this new spirit into the world.

"Let us then on this Good-Will Day, millions and millions of us, unite in one great thought of peace—peace among the people, and peace among the nations. With faith that can remove mountains, our thoughts will change the world.

"Good Will Day, May 18, 1933."

DUKES SETTLE GLOVE ISSUE

McLarnin and Corbett Will Wear Five-and-Half-Ounce Mitts

LOS ANGELES, May 17 (AP).—The first skirmish between the camps of Jimmy McLarnin and young Corbett III, who meet for the world's welterweight championship May 29, ended in a compromise today, when the State Athletic Commission ordered the fighters to wear five and one-half ounce gloves.

The commission also ordered the champion and contender to post $2,500 each in forfeit money, and moved the weighing in time for the ten-round bout, from the customary 2 p.m. on the day of the fight to 3 p.m.

Argument over the size of the gloves was started several weeks ago when Charles (Pop) Foster, McLarnin's manager, stated he had ordered five-ounce gloves for the challenger on the basis of a commission rule, which permitted fighters under 145 pounds that privilege.

Under the same rule, the champion would have been forced to wear six-ounce gloves, which brought a protest from Corbett's manager, Larry White. Foster stood pat, so the athletic commission stepped in today, and effected the compromise.

TAX INCREASE IS EXPLAINED

Reeve Heald Tells Esquimalt Ratepayers Why Mill Rate Was Raised

Emphatic statement that if any apologies for increase in the Esquimalt tax rate were to be made, they would have to come from the Dominion and Provincial Governments, and not from the municipal council, was made by Reeve Albert Heald, at a public meeting last night in the Parish Hall, under the auspices of the Esquimalt Board of Trade. Major A. A. Warder, chairman of the school board, also spoke. R. H. Wood, vice-president, occupied the chair.

The Reeve stated that reasons for the increase were manifold. Reduced revenues from delinquent taxes, the Hudson's Bay Company's successful appeal against their assessment rate, and loss of all Government grants excepting those of liquor profits and motor licences, were the more important, he stated. In addition, the Government had thrown the burden of social services on the municipality, which made another $4,000 per year necessary.

CO-OPERATION ASSURED

The ratepayers were assured that if they would name a committee to check over the figures of the estimates, the council would co-operate to its fullest extent.

Pointing out the reasons for marketing the $30,000 debenture issue, Reeve Heald said that bank overdrafts and current liabilities made it absolutely necessary. He also stated that if the expected payments on delinquent taxes were received before July 31, it would not be necessary to float the loan.

RELIEF DISCUSSED

Coming to the relief question, the speaker said that although no definite word has been received from the Government, it is expected that the municipalities will have to supply more than one-third expected from them at this time. The Dominion and Provincial Governments, he explained, now paid a one-third each toward the total, necessary for relief.

In answer to a question, the Reeve stated that if the $30,000 due in taxes from the Puget Sound Agricultural Society is not paid by the end of the year, then the lands will be sold at a tax sale.

ESQUIMALT'S POSITION

In a detailed account Reeve Heald pointed out that Esquimalt was in a better condition than most municipalities of its kind throughout the Dominion. Drastic increase was made in Saanich, while Burnaby was also pressed for money.

Major A. A. Warder, chairman of the school board, declared that the school board estimate had been the lowest since 1924.

TO DISCUSS CANDIDATURE

Trades and Labor Council Unions Will Hold Political Meeting, June 15

A meeting of delegates from all local unions represented in the Trades and Labor Council has been called for June 15, to discuss the question of whether labor interests in this city shall be represented among the candidates of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation in the forthcoming provincial election.

This was decided upon at last night's meeting of the Trades and Labor Council, after Rev. Robert Connell, who is identified with the new political party, had made an appeal for the Trades and Labor Council to endorse the C.F.F. platform and nominate a candidate to run with three others to be selected in this city.

He said the C.C.F. was really an amalgamation of three Dominion-wide political groups, namely, the People's party, the Socialist party and the Social Reconstruction Group.

As a result of this overture from the C.C.F., three delegates from each local union will be asked to attend a meeting to be held in the Hamley Building, at 8 o'clock on June 15, to discuss whether the council should endorse the C.C.F. platform and nominate a candidate, or decide upon any other political action that may seem advisable.

NEW MINISTER IS DISCUSSED

Trades and Labor Council Takes No Action Regarding Appointment

While no definite action was taken, the appointment of Hon. William Middleton Dennies to the position of Minister of Labor in the Provincial Cabinet was the subject of considerable debate at last night's meeting of the Trades and Labor Council.

There was no strong opposition to his appointment, however. Some took the view that he was first and last a union man, while another group held the view that the present deputy minister, Adam Bell, should have been promoted to the Cabinet position, as being a man more qualified for the position.

Others held that the new minister only represented a minority group, which elicited the remark that W. J. Bowser was playing to the International Union wing, and Premier Tolmie was playing to the minority wing.

The general feeling, however, was that the new minister should be given an opportunity to be tested, so no action was taken.

Good Samaritan Plays Part of Postman and Forwards Lost Letter

There is a Good Samaritan in Victoria who merits the thanks of a lady, but she does not know his or her identity. Miss Adeline Sangster was walking along Moss Street about a month ago when she dropped a letter addressed to a friend in Aberdeen, Scotland, which she had intended to post. She did not discover the loss until later and, giving it up as a bad job, she penned another to her friend.

Yesterday, to her astonishment, she received an answer to the letter she had lost. The letter had been posted seven days after it was dropped, and the necessary stamp put on. Stuck to the envelope was a little message, stating that the missive had been picked up on Moss Street and the finder had passed it on to its proper destination. Miss Sangster is anxious to thank her unknown benefactor.

Richards Defeats Walter Pursey in State Golf Final

BROADMOOR GOLF CLUB, SEATTLE, May 17 (AP).—Playing something like the "dubs" whom they teach, Gordon Richards, of Tacoma, and Walter Pursey, of Seattle, fought a nip and tuck battle for the Washington State professional golf championship today with the Tacoma Golf and Country Club ace successfully defending the title he won last year.

Settling down to more like his regular game on the last nine, Richards nosed out the former champion, 2 and 1, after they had turned the first nine, 18th and 27th all square.

Fines Are Imposed—Two charges of driving motor cycles without having licences were disposed of in the provincial police court yesterday afternoon. The offenders were Roy Gerrard and Herbert Gerrard. The former had no licence, while the latter had an American licence but was driving a Canadian cycle. Each was fined $5 and $2 costs.

The newly-elected officers of the club will be installed in office at the regular noon luncheon meeting on June 1.

Gives Financial Report—The following report is submitted by R. F. Taylor, treasurer of the Citizens' Recreation Rooms, covering the period from the end of March to May 15: Balance on hand, March 31, $521.91; income from contributions during April to May 15, $157.20; expenses during the same period, $332.50; balance on hand May 15, $346.61.

To Visit Farm—Instead of the monthly meeting of the South Saanich Farmers' Institute being held at the Temperance Hall, arrangements have been made through the kindness of E. M. Straight, of the Sidney Experimental Farm, to entertain the farmers and their wives at the Experimental Farm this evening. Members are asked to be at the farm by 6:45 o'clock.

New Five-Cent Stamp—In commemoration of the meeting of the executive committee of the Universal Postal Union, which takes place at Ottawa in May and June of this year, to prepare the agenda for the congress which meets at Cairo, Egypt, in February, 1934, a new postage stamp of the five-cent denomination will be available for sale today.

Withdraws Charge — When the case against Eric Linden on a charge of assaulting Stanley Scurrah was called in the city police court, yesterday D. S. Tait, who appeared for the accused, informed the magistrate that he had been instructed that the informant was ready to withdraw the charge. This was confirmed by the informant, who was called upon, however, to pay the costs of the action.

Want Answer—Still contending that its inquiry has not been answered, the Trades and Labor Council will again approach the City Council for a clarified answer to the question as to whether the Pioneer Sand & Gravel Company was given a reduction or rebate of $1,200 in water rates. The reply given by the water committee of the City Council, and read at last night's meeting of the labor body, was considered unsatisfactory.

Appointments Made—John A. Thomas, British Columbia fire marshal, was made a justice of the peace by Provincial order yesterday. Lewis F. Hay, of Englewood, was appointed as a notary public. In other orders, the Province set $6 a day as allowable fees for professional men in Supreme Court cases, and approved of the Tax Rate By-Law of Merritt, as recommended by Commissioner S. C. Burton. Colonel F. C. Bell, C.M.C., D.S.O., was appointed a trustee on the British Columbia Canteen Board, replacing Lieut.-Col. A. D. Wilson, resigned.

Prepare for Plan—Hon. W. A. McKenzie intimated yesterday that the Province is preparing to go ahead shortly with his plan to place selected men under instruction at placer mining, in accordance with amendments to the Provisional Free Miners' Certificates Act, now endorsed by the Federal Government. The first step will be the setting aside of placer mining reserves in each district, for use as required in the institution of training camps where a limited number of men can receive a short course in prospecting and mining, later to practise the calling for their own support.

Withdraws Information — A charge against Gibley Fee of having supplied intoxicating liquor to Roy Gerrard was withdrawn during the progress of the hearing in the city police court, yesterday. This action was taken on the suggestion of C. L. Harrison, the city prosecutor, during the taking of the evidence of Gerrard. Mr. Harrison abruptly stopped the examination, stating the witness was not telling the same story that he had given the chief of police at the time of apprehension. Magistrate Jay dismissed the case, but in so doing said it did not appear very savory.

Tension Is Relieved — Fraser River's water level rose to twelve feet six inches yesterday, considerably relieving anxiety on the part of the Provincial authorities in regard to a conjunction of forces, which might have precipitated disastrous floods later in the year. Though high water is still expected, increased run-off now from the Fraser and Thompson River systems will minimize much of the danger to diking areas in the lower reaches of the systems. Continued gradual rise in the Fraser, as tested at the Mission gauge, is hoped for, rather than a sudden release of melting snow from the huge watersheds involved.

Herring Move to Deep Water When Sea Lions Appear

Both fisherman and sea lions were after herring in the Pearl Harbor area of British Columbia in recent weeks, but the fish, apparently knowing something of the lions' appetite, promptly hurried out to deep water off shore, with the result that the fishermen had added difficulty in catching the desired supply of herring for bait purposes.

The incident is worth noting as another example of the trouble and loss which sea lions cause in British Columbia waters. It is because of their depredations of the salmon runs and the damage they do to fishermen's nets that the Dominion Department of Fisheries sends one of its British Columbia vessels to certain rookeries each year for the purpose of shooting some of the lions and thus to keep the herds within reasonable limits as to numbers.

This year was the first occasion, for a long time at all events, that sea lions had invaded the Pearl Harbor area in any numebrs during the herring run, and the fishermen are quite convinced that the reason the herring suddenly fled to deep waters was to escape the voracious strangers. At one time in March the number of lions estimated to be in or near Pearl Harbor was 100 or more.

Historical Exhibition Intensely Interesting

Display and Concerts Are Held in Aid of St. Louis College Welfare Fund—Much Work Entailed in Gathering Objects of Art

A fascinating display of historical and art exhibits was shown at the former St. Ann's Academy Kindergarten School, corner of Blanshard and View Streets, yesterday afternoon and evening, in aid of the St. Louis College welfare fund. Programmes of entertainment also were given in the afternoon and evening.

An inspection of the exhibits impressed one with the amount of detail work involved in assembling the many interesting items. The British Columbia historical stall alone was crowded with many photographs and historical relics that in themselves gave a picture of the development of British Columbia since the days when the early settlers first arrived.

INDIAN CURIOS

Indian work of every description was shown at another stall, while objects of art dating back two or three hundred years were shown at another booth. Beautiful pieces of silver, old blunderbuses, Persian steel helmets, centuries old, kept one fascinated throughout the entire tour.

Historical exhibits of a religious character also were on view. These were divided into two sections, one of a general character and another dealing with the Esquimalt church activities. The history of St. Louis College also was outlined.

Mrs. Blair Reid was the convener of the exhibition and was ably assisted by Mrs. R. A. Duncan. Well organized committees, working on each separate exhibit and form of entertainment, made the occasion an outstanding success.

COMMITTEE LIST

Following were the committees: Esquimalt church history stall, Rev. Father A. B. Wood; quilts and art exhibit, Mrs. E. N. Caven, convener, assisted by Mrs. G. Evans and Mrs. M. O'Leary; Indian curios, Rev. Father E. M. Scheelen, assisted by Mrs. H. Silver; British Columbia history section, Mrs. W. Mulcahy, convener, assisted by Mrs. C. McLennan and Mrs. A. Grant; church and school history, Mrs. J. D. Kissinger, convener, assisted by Mrs. J. Scaling; door committee, Reginald Clarkson, C. O'Leary and C. Rivers.

Miss Ethel Baines, throughout the afternoon and evening, told fortunes by cards and teacup.

The Junior Catholic Women's League had charge of the candy stall, while Master Richard Jones provided motion pictures. Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. Hourigan, convener, assisted by Mrs. F. Kyle, Miss Kathleen Chapman, Mrs. P. Mahoney, Mrs. W. P. Regan, Mrs. E. O'Neill and Mrs. Dunnett.

Games of housie-housie were conducted by members of the Knights of Columbus and the Young Men's Institute.

ADDRESS GIVEN

Rev. Father C. E. Evans presided as chairman during the entertainment programme, and in the evening the gathering was addressed by Alderman R. T. Williams, who gave some reminiscences of early Victoria.

Artists who contributed to the programme were the St. Louis College boys' dancing team, under the direction of Brother W. B. O'Donohoe; Rev. Father J. A. Gaudette, violin solos; Rev. Father C. Albury, piano solos; Mrs. A. R. Lavell, vocal solos, accompanied by Miss M. McKay; Miss Hilda Harding, vocal solos, accompanied by Miss McKay; John Barlow, elocutionist; Miss Nellie Scowcroft, recitation; Jesse Longfield, violin solo; Mr. Matheson, baritone solo, and Madame Edith Mayell, vocal solos. Madame Mayell was convener of the evening programme of entertainment.

Actresses as Mannequins

DOING their bit in the sweet cause of charity, Tallulah Bankhead, stage and screen star, left, and Mrs. Lionel Barrymore, member of the thespian "royal family," are pictured as they acted as models in a recent benefit fashion show in New York. Miss Bankhead is wearing a novel black and white evening dress with flower-trimmed short sleeves. Mrs. Barrymore is attired in a striking afternoon ensemble of horizontal and vertical stripes.

Soroptimists To Have Busy Session Here

Mrs. R. J. Sprott, of Vancouver, will preside at the luncheon of the Western Canadian Region of Soroptimist Clubs, to be held at the Empress Hotel on Saturday. Captain George McGregor, president of the Rotary Club, of Victoria, will speak on "Service Clubs as a Force in Moulding Public Opinion." Out-of-town delegates and visitors will be entertained at afternoon tea at the Empress Hotel. The birthday banquet of the Victoria club, at the Empress Hotel, has been set for 7:30 o'clock, Miss Alma Russell, the president, in the chair. Mrs. Mercy Ellen Crehan, president of the American Federation of Soroptimist Clubs, and Mrs. R. J. Sprott, regional director, will be the principal speakers.

On Sunday, Mrs. Fred Robertson will entertain the visitors and the Victoria club to a buffet luncheon at her home, "Drumadoon" (the old Hamsterley Farm), at Cadboro Bay.

English Vicar Has Short and Pithy Advice for Wives

WESTCLIFF-ON-SEA, England, May 17 (CP).—Rev. T. H. Curtis, vicar of St. Paul's Church, gives this advice to wives:

"If your husband is quiet, don't imagine he is sulky. He may be trying to think of a suitable present for you.

"At the end of a tiring day, don't ask him 'what shall we have for dinner tomorrow?' That is your job.

"Do not expect too much of your husband. Remember he is only a man. He has not your advantages."

Popular Soloists Heard In Request Programme

A fine programme of outstanding merit was presented by the Victoria Musical Art Society, yesterday afternoon, at the Shrine Hall, marking the close of the society's season, which has been so successful, and during which so many delightful musical afternoons and evenings have been enjoyed by the members and their friends.

ALL REQUEST NUMBERS

Yesterday's concert was made up of a programme of request numbers, and commenced with piano solos, "Chorale; Jesu, Man of Heart's Desiring" (Bach), and "Rhapsodie in B Minor" (Brahms), played by Mr. Brian Burdon-Murphy, one of Victoria's most talented younger pianists. These numbers were followed by vocal solos, "Sunday" (Brahms), "Big Lady Moon" (Coleridge-Taylor), and "Farewell" (Franz), sung by Miss Dorothy Parsons. Her second number was particularly beautiful, and the audience showed its appreciation by applause, which was responded to by an encore. Mr. Edward Parsons played his daughter's accompaniments.

Miss Violet Fowkes, whose pupils have delighted Victoria audiences on many occasions, and who appears only too seldom in solo work, gave a spirited and clever exhibition of a Spanish cape dance, which she repeated as an encore.

ATTRACTIVE NUMBERS

Three vocal solos by Miss Nora Jones were charmingly sung, and were delightfully varied in theme and tempo. These were "How's My Boy" (Sidney Homer), "Down in the Valley" (Landon Ronald), and "The Sleigh" (Kountz), her encore being "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," the accompaniments being played very sympathetically by Miss Maquinna Daniels. Miss Isobel Crawford and Mr. Frank Tupman sang a duet, "Ye Gay and Painted Fair" ("The Seasons"), by Haydn, and Mr. C. E. McNeill was the accompanist, playing with great musical feeling.

Mrs. Jack Barraclough, a comparative newcomer in Victoria musical circles, proved herself a vocalist of outstanding ability, her numbers being, "A Spirit Flower" (Campbell-Tipton), and "Her Dream," by Frank Waller. She generously responded with an encore. Miss Olive Campbell played the accompaniments with great artistry.

Miss Maquinna Daniels brought the programme to a conclusion with three pianoforte selections, Chorale: "Mortify Us by the Grace" (Bach); "Firefly" (Frank Bridge), and "Soaring" (Schumann).

During the afternoon Mrs. W. A. Jameson, the president, announced that the Junior Musical Art Society will meet tomorrow at the home of Miss Joyce Adams; the Beaux-Arts will hold a recital on May 26; Mme. Eva Baird's pupils will appear in recital on May 30, in aid of the V.O.N., and Miss Marguerite Devlin will give a recital on June 9.

Junior Musical Arts Will Hold Closing Meeting

The final meeting of the season of the Junior Musical Arts will be held at the home of the president, Miss Joyce Adams, 1790 Beach Drive, tomorrow evening at 8:15 o'clock. Guest tickets may be procured at the door.

An attractive programme has been prepared as follows: Songs, "Who is Sylvia?" (Schubert), "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise" (Seitz) and "The False Prophet" (John Prindle Scott), to be sung by Boris Rawlins, accompanied at the piano by G. White; violin, Air on G String (Bach); "Viennese Folk Song" (Krakauer, arr. by Kreisler), Genille Browne-Cave, accompanied by Victoria Cross; piano solo, Scherzo in B Flat Minor (Chopin), "Lullalo" (Barron), Mrs. John Gough, guest artist; violin solos, "The Old Refrain" (Kreisler) and "Serenade" (Ernst), Allen Paver, accompanied by Elsie French; songs, "Vieille Chanson" (Bizet), "O Golden Sun" (Freby) and "The Maiden's Wish" (Chopin), Miss Merle North, guest artist, accompanied by Mrs. John Gough; elocution, "The Pacific Coast" and "Caught," Valentine Harlock; piano solos, Nocturne in F (Schumann) and "Hungarian Dance," No. 7 (Brahms), Hazel McMahon.

St. Ann's Sisters Plan Celebration

The seventy-fifth anniversary of the landing of the first Sisters of St. Ann, on June 5, 1858, will be celebrated on May 30, 31 and June 1 at St. Ann's Convent and Academy, the date having been arranged so that the month of June may be free for the programme which accompanies the pupils in their final examinations.

On Tuesday evening, May 30, the celebrations will begin with a commemorative programme in the auditorium, when interpretative papers will be presented, the theme of the entire programme being St. Ann. The incidental music illustrating the theme has been specially composed for the occasion by Benedict Bantley, well known in Victoria in former years as a member of one of the old pioneer families, a student of St. Ann's as a very small child, and for years organist of St. Andrew's Cathedral. Mr. Bantley, with his family, has been a resident of Southern California for some time past.

PONTIFICAL MASS

On Wednesday morning, May 31, Pontifical Mass will be celebrated in St. Andrew's Cathedral, and in the afternoon at 3 o'clock a reception will be held at St. Ann's Academy for the many guests, followed by the unveiling of a tablet in the log cabin convent on Heywood Avenue, where the Sisters opened their first school. An educational exhibit from all the schools of St. Ann in the West will be opened in the rooms of the academy and will be free for inspection from May 30 to July 31. There will also be an exhibition of the publications by the Sisters of St. Ann, and some souvenir books.

On Thursday, June 1, Solemn Requiem Mass will be sung in the cathedral, and from 3 to 4 in the afternoon the Holy Hour will be observed in the convent chapel, followed by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament and the singing of the Te Deum.

ROOMS REDECORATED

Already the convent is taking on a festive air. Through the generosity of the Sisters of St. Ann in Montreal, the reception-rooms have been redecorated and furnished, and handsome glass doors have replaced the old doors at the front entrance, and others of a like design divide the front and main hallway leading to the chapel.

Is Engaged to Ottawa Man

MISS Cordelia Anne Vanderhoef, of Park Avenue, New York, and Wishing Woods, Greenwich, Conn., whose engagement to Mr. Fred Booth, of Ottawa, was announced this week. Miss Vanderhoef is one of the most popular debutantees in New York society. Picture shows Miss Vanderhoef dressed as she took part in the revels at Pasadena, Cal., recently, where as an accomplished dancer she led the chorus numbers and also played several solo parts.

Premier S. F. Tolmie will loan his grounds at "Cloverdale," Saanich, for a garden party to be sponsored by the parents' group of the North Quadra Troop and Pack of Boy Scouts, on Saturday, June 17.

This was learned last night at the monthly meeting of the parents' group in the Glasgow Avenue headquarters, when a letter giving permission and wishing the association every success was received from the Premier. The party will be held for the purpose of raising funds to extend the premises of the association. Committees in charge of arrangements for the day will meet June 7, to draft final plans.

The troop is flourishing, having a waiting list, and the newly-organized Cub Pack is also growing, under the supervision of Scoutmaster Jack Miller, reports revealed. President Crowhurst was in the chair, and Robert Dunn acted as secretary-treasurer.

TWO VICTORIANS RECEIVE HONORS

A. J. Dallain and Dr. A. B. Hudson Made Officers of St. John Ambulance Society

VANCOUVER, May 17 (AP).—Awards of honors to prominent British Columbia workers in the St. John Ambulance Society were announced Tuesday by Lieut.-Col. J. T. Clarke, director-general.

Included in the list are A. J. Dallain, provincial secretary of the society, and Dr. A. B. Hudson, both of Victoria, who have been made officers of the order.

As the British Columbians will be unable to be present at the formal investiture ceremony at Ottawa late this month, arrangements are being made to have the Governor-General officiate at a subinvestiture in Government House Victoria, this Summer, when the vice-regal party pay their annual visit to the Coast.

For hours they had been together. The moon cast its tender gleam down on the young and handsome couple, who sat strangely apart. He sighed. She sighed. Finally: "I wish I had money, dear," he said. "I'd travel." At once she slipped her hand into his, then, rising swiftly, she spend into the house. Aghast, he looked at his hand. In his palm lay a penny.

What Today Means

If May 18 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 6:20 a.m. to 7:45 a.m., from 11 a.m. to 12:25 p.m. and from 5 p.m. to 6 p.m. The danger periods are from 9:25 a.m. to 10:45 a.m. and from 8 p.m. to 9:10 p.m.

Influences operating on this day will probably be of variable nature. They will not favor hurried or sudden business transactions; transactions involving the signing of papers should be satisfactorily consummated. Affairs of the heart will probably remain at a standstill. Mixed social gatherings will be fraught with friction and jealousy.

The child born on this May 18 will probably have a predominantly sombre disposition; laughter will not be spontaneous with him. He will never seem quite to adjust himself to his surroundings; he will not reflect an attitude of perfect happiness. Not a particularly restless child, but one who likes to be well occupied.

If May 18 is the date of your birth, you are probably one of that group of people who thoroughly enjoy their amusements and diversions, but in a quiet way. You enjoy your friends, and you have many of them, but you do not like large social gatherings. You prefer to see your friends a few at a time, and whenever possible, in your own home. The theatre and movies mean not a great deal to you, although on occasions you enjoy the latter. Music proves very restful to you and at times inspiring. You are one whose life is largely devoted to your family. You think little of self and invariably you are trying to think up some little pleasant surprise to "spring" on someone dear to you. You go out of your way to help or encourage children.

Born on May 18, it is impossible to visualize you in any particular line of work. You are one who is not afraid to assume responsibility and almost certain it is that you will eventually find yourself in a position of authority and trust. It is possible that large sums of money will be placed under your supervision. You are probably a very good letter writer as well as a forceful speaker.

The Boss (who has just dropped in to watch the football match)—So this is your uncle's funeral, Bob?

Office Boy (with great presence of mind)—Looks like it, sir. He's the referee."

Steamship Niagara Making Smart Run From Island Port

Liner Many Hours Ahead of Schedule—Emma Out—Dorothy Here Tonight—Vancouver Docked—Gracia Due— Lumber Active

From Australia via New Zealand, Fiji and Hawaii, the Canadian-Australasian liner Niagara (Captain T. V. Hill, commander), is due at William Head at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, according to wireless advices received at the office of Canadian Pacific Steamships here yesterday. The liner is running about fifteen hours ahead of the scheduled time of her arrival, which is tomorrow morning. Unless weather conditions change and interfere with this time, the Niagara should be up alongside of Rithet Piers about 4:30 o'clock. For Canadian and United States destinations, the ship has a fair list of passengers and considerable cargo for Canadian discharge.

Sailing southbound yesterday, the Pacific Steamship Lines Ss. Emma Alexander left Rithet Piers at midnight for San Francisco and Wilmington. The liner arrived from Seattle at 10 o'clock, and embarked Island and Mainland passengers for California points.

Among the travelers boarding the ship here were Mrs. J. M. Carson, Miss Dorothy Carson, Hugh Carson, Miss Gladys Johnson, Miss Eileen Hearne, G. D. Graham, Miss Elisa Lauser, Miss Violet Lauser, Miss Doreen Day, J. A. Connacher and Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Kemp.

INBOUND TONIGHT

Inbound from California ports, the Pacific Steamship Lines Ss. Dorothy Alexander is due to arrive here at 10 o'clock tonight. There are passengers and freight for Victoria. The Dorothy will proceed to Seattle at midnight.

From the United Kingdom via Panama and California ports, the Donaldson freighter Gracia was due at Race Rocks at 6 o'clock this morning, according to A. E. Shanks, of Rithet Consolidated, agents for the ship. The Gracia has freight for local discharge and should be up at the dock in time to start unloading at 8 o'clock. Completing here, she will proceed to Mainland ports.

From Europe via Panama and California, the German-American ship Vancouver docked at Rithet Piers shortly after 6 o'clock last evening. Discharging bananas for local fruit houses, the Vancouver proceeded to the Mainland later in the evening.

The yacht Cruiser, formerly a mission ship on the British Columbia Coast and for some time used by the late Captain Troup as a pleasure craft, has been sold to the Pacific Navigation Company, of Vancouver. She will be used for passenger service out of Vancouver. She is now at the plant of the Victoria Machinery Depot for general overhaul.

BEING OVERHAULED

Two whalers were out on the marine ways of the Victoria Machinery Depot yesterday, being put in shape for whaling service out of Rose Harbor, Queen Charlotte Islands. When they come off, two more will be hauled out. The tender Gray has already left for the whaling station with a crew who will get the station ready.

To load lumber for the United Kingdom, the freighter Silvera was expected at Ogden Point docks during the night. There will be three ships at Ogden Point loading lumber for the United Kingdom today, the Sithonia arriving yesterday morning and the Cape of Good Hope at 6 o'clock last evening. King Brothers are handling all three ships.

RACED LARGE SHIP ASHORE

Survivors of Wreck Believe Island of St. Paul Contains Treasure

It was forty-four years ago, in 1889, to be exact, a four-masted bark was idling through the Indian Ocean bound for the East Indies. Its skipper was a Liverpool man who boasted that he never let a ship pass him. He was pacing the deck that afternoon when he sighted a big sailing ship which was gradually overtaking him.

Calling for every man to help, he ordered every sail to be set, and he held them there, even after the other ship was run out of sight, even in the teeth of a gale and the blackness of night. It was the nearest race he had ever run, and he was afraid to rest.

Suddenly the mate shifted, and the crew saw their ship tearing into nearby cliffs at fourteen knots. One man was killed and forty-two sailors were washed ashore on a volcano. Nothing was rescued, and the ship was battered to pieces.

ONLY ONE MATCH

They had only one match between them, so they started a fire and never let it go out. They lived on penguins. To get water they had to climb 2,000 feet, and carry it back in their boots and oilskin pants.

It is back to that bleak, dismal island of St. Paul, a dot in the Indian Ocean halfway between South Africa and Australia, that Commander Charles Lightelier wants to return, along with his wife and two daughters.

He is the hero of half a dozen shipwrecks, and the only officer saved of those remaining in the Titanic when she went down with the loss of hundreds of lives.

He wants to leave his quiet English home in Hadley Wood and return to desolate St. Paul, in order to search for the treasure pirates buried there when they raided the old East India merchant boats centuries ago. He believes he discovered the spot when he was shipwrecked there on the ill-fated bark in 1889.

In relating his shipwreck experiences on St. Paul, Commander Lightelier said: "The eight days we spent there were a nightmare. The volcano was still in action, and there was hardly anything to eat. We knew food was to be found on the island, but it was only after we had been rescued that we learned where it was hidden.

CAIRN OF STONES

"There was a cairn of stones on which was written: 'Mrs. Smith and child, wife and daughter of Captain Smith.' We often loooked at that stone, but would not remove it, as we thought it was sacred. But food was hidden under it all the time.

"We found forty-two uninhabited huts and a number of boats, so old, that when we touched them our fingers went through the wood. They had been used by the pirates who raided the merchant ships on the East India route.

"I saw a beautiful lagoon and a number of wrecks near it, but we could not get anywhere near. It is in a cave near the lagoon that I am certain there is rich treasure to be found. I was getting on the track of it when we were rescued."

Father: "Baby seems to cry whenever I look at him."

Mother: "Never mind, dear, he'll probably laugh at you when he grows up a bit."

LINES PLAN EXCURSIONS

Cunard and Anchor-Donaldson Have Wide Choice for Travelers

MONTREAL, May 17. — No less than twenty-three Summer cruises have been scheduled by the Cunard and Anchor Lines for this season. These cruises will all sail from New York, and the services will use eight of the lines' steamers.

The Franconia, celebrated for her world cruises, will make two cruises to the Canadian North Cape, and one to the South, the first sailing from New York on July 29. The itinerary includes the Saguenay River, Quebec, Murray Bay and Bermuda. This cruise will be repeated on August 26, in each case calling at Boston both ways. The southward cruise leaves New York on August 12 for Cuba, allowing three days in Havana, a full day in Nassau and two days in Bermuda.

The Mauretania will make five fast cruises to the West Indies this Summer, sailing from New York on July 8, 22, August 5, 22 and September 9. Each cruise will last twelve and one-half days, and cover 5,300 miles. The ports visited will include Port of Spain, Trinidad, La Guaira (for Caracas), Venezuela, Willemstead, Curacao, Colon, Panama and Havana, Cuba. The Mauretania skirts the Leeward and Windward Islands on her way to Trinidad.

The annual North Cape cruise operated in connection with Raymond and Whitcomb, will sail from New York on July 1, calling at Iceland, North Cape, Hammerfest, Norwegian fjords, Bergen, Oslo, Copenhagen, Zoppot, Visby, Stockholm, Leningrad (for Moscow), Swinemunde in Germany, and Cherbourg. The cruise lasts forty-two days in the Carinthia.

WEEK-END CRUISES

The Acquitania is also scheduled for a couple of week-end cruises to Nova Scotia, the first being on the week-end of July 4, and the second for the Labor Day week-end. Another cruise leaves New York on July 1 for a thirty-two-day round trip to Europe, calling at Cobh, London, Hamburg or Berlin, Rotterdam for Holland, Havre for Paris, and back to New York.

Other Summer cruises of Cunard and Anchor Lines include six twelve and one-half-day trips to the Saguenay, Quebec, Murray Bay and Bermuda, covered by the Transylvania and California; two cruises to Nassau and Havana by the California; two Labor Day cruises to Nova Scotia by the Transylvania and Caledonia.

In addition, the Tuscania has been chartered by the Bible Conference Association for a cruise to Nassau and Havana, leaving New York on June 24. Although the cruise is open to the general public, it will differ from other cruises in that there will be no dancing, no open bars and no theatrical entertainment. Bible class sessions will be held three times a day. It possesses many ideal features for people who do not care for the livelier type of cruise. On all other Cunard-Anchor cruises there will be concerts, night clubs, bridge contests and all that goes to make a vacation cruise something to remember.

Seaplanes Prove Effectiveness in Fisheries Patrol

Seaplanes have demonstrated their usefulness in fisheries patrol work in Canada and they will again be in use this year on the Pacific Coast.

As a class, the commercial fishermen of Canada respect the fishing regulations, but there is always the possibility, of course, that someone may prove an exception to the rule, and the seaplane, swift, coming suddenly out of the sky, is an effective means of checking anything of the kind or of catching the offender.

Last year the planes utilized in the fisheries patrol in British Columbia were on duty in the air 275 hours and 25 minutes. That was a considerable shorter flying time than was required in the previous year, and much below the maximum of 443 hours and 40 minutes in the 1930 season, but in 1932 the lessened intensiveness of fishing operations, which was the natural consequence of unfavorable world market conditions, made it unnecessary to have the planes in the air for as long a time as in other years.

Care is always taken in every year, of course, to see that the seaplane patrol is employed only when and where it is absolutely needed, and in this way the expense is kept at a minimum.

Young Daughter (to visitor)—Is it right what mother says—that you are a self-made man, Mr. Brown?

Mr. Brown—Yes, my dear. But what makes you ask?

Young Daughter—I was only wondering what made you give yourself such a funny face.

Neither Carriers Nor Shippers Are Pleased With Plan

President Roosevelt's Railway Policy Distasteful to Railroad Executives — Shippers More Inclined to Accept Conditions Without Fight

President Roosevelt's railway plan, now in the hands of Congress, does not meet with the absolute approval of either the carriers or the shippers. Both of these factions aver that the plan, stripped of all qualifying language, is for a dictator, to be appointed by the President of the United States, who shall, subject to appeal to the Interstate Commerce Commission, have authority to set aside laws to the contrary and bring about savings and co-ordinations.

The viewpoint expressed by the railways are of a rather anti-character and may be summarized as follows: The roads think it is unfair to them and to those who have invested money in the railways; unfair to the employees, many of whom will be thrown out of work; unfair to business, which looks to competition; that it is socialistic and entirely unjustified by the situation it is intended to cure; that if enacted by Congress shippers and railroad alike will be sorry; that the entire plan has come from accepting advice of long-haired advisers to the President instead of the result of sound business judgment.

In addition, the rail executives deny that the situation is nearly as serious as is represented and does not therefore call for such drastic action; that if the roads are let alone they can do for themselves everything of a beneficial character suggested; that if the roads wish to defy the administration they can do so and get away with it; that the plan will prove troublesome and burdensome if its enforcement is left in the hands of theorists, perhaps favorable to the idea of government ownership, rather than to a practical transportation man who knows what can or cannot be done with safety and impunity.

Advices from Washington have it that the shippers, although in many instances being seriously opposed to the Roosevelt railway plan, are quite complacent about it and are apparently planning to "take it lying down," according to The Daily Commercial Chronicle of San Francisco. The advices also suggest that the shippers are probably of the opinion it would not display good judgment to fight the President of the United States. Another suggestion is that they are filled with joy because the plan is not worse than it is, not seeing that the plan may prove the opening wedge in what will result later in government ownership and operation.

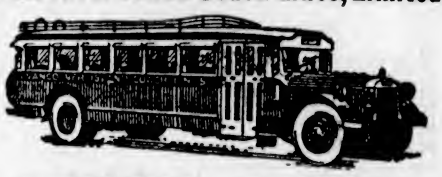

SIDNEY-ANACORTES FERRY TO COMMENCE OPERATING JUNE 15

A. C. Stickley, agent here for the Black Ball Ferries, stated yesterday that the Sidney-Anacortes ferry would start on June 15, following the completion of the new Sidney dock. When the ferries are operating on their Summer schedules, they will conform to daylight saving time at Puget Sound points, which means that the time will be advanced here.

When the regular Tuesday and Thursday excursions operated by the company between Seattle and Victoria start, the boat will arrive here at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and leave at 5 o'clock, instead of arriving here at 2 o'clock and leaving at 6 o'clock as it did last season.

'WE GAMBLERS' IS LIVELY PICTURE

Capitol Attraction Bases Plot on Running of Horse Race—Jack Oakie Heads Fine Cast

A famous old Southern racing town is the scene of "We Gamblers," a drama coming to the Capitol Theatre today, and the running of a great Derby the motivation for its action. The picture, however, concerns itself more with the effect of the Derby on a group of people of diversified backgrounds, and circumstances than with the Derby itself.

Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, David Manners, Adrienne Ames, Sidney Blackmer and Verna Hillie play the leading roles in the film.

The story centres around eleven people, who come from various parts of the country to witness the race. Each stakes his entire career on its results, and yet each bets on a different horse. As the race draws near, the lives and thoughts of these eleven are curiously tangled together, though each sees the turn in his own fortunes in the shape of a different horse. The picture reaches a powerful climax during the running of the race, when it is determined which is the fortunate one.

First movie of its type, "Strictly Personal," a drama which plays upon the theme of "get-acquainted clubs," is the second feature, with Marjorie Rambeau, Eddie Quillan and Dorothy Jordan in leading roles.

DOMINION THEATRE Edward Everett Horton holds an M.S. degree from the West's greatest barber college. Horton enrolled, attended class, and was graduated all within an hour and a half. Horton took the course of training in preparation for his part as Maurice Chevalier's valet in "A Bedtime Story," which is at the Dominion Theatre. One sequence of the picture required Horton to shave Chevalier with a real razor. The course of study toward the M.S. (Master of Shaving) was financed and insisted upon by the French star.

EMPIRE THEATRE Stanley Lupino and Polly Walker will be seen at the Empire Theatre for the last times today, in "Sleepless Nights," the feature British comedy. "Sleepless Nights" is the first musical show put out by British and Dominion Pictures, Inc. Noel Gay, composer of "All the King's Horses," wrote the musical score.

Playhouse Bills Show Boat Film

Bill Boyd as a young lumberman and Ginger Rogers as the star of a carnival show boat troupe, form the romantic duo in "Carnival Boat," R.K.O.-Pathe romance of the big trees, which comes to the Playhouse Theatre today.

The romance between Boyd and Ginger is set against a fast moving background of action in a big logging camp and a show boat. Thrills are injected with the breaking up of a log-jam, the wrecking of a heavily loaded runaway logging train, and Bill's trip across the mountain peaks on a high-line, with only a log between him and a 250-foot drop to oblivion.

Comedy abounds in R.K.O.-Radio Pictures' mystery thriller, "The Phantom of Crestwood," the added feature. Four favorite comedians of the screen have prominent parts in the cast: Richard "Skeets" Gallagher, Sam Hardy, George E. Stone and Clarence F. Wilson being the quartette.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen

Capitol—Jack Oakie in "We Gamblers."
Columbia—"War Correspondent," starring Jack Holt.
Dominion—Maurice Chevalier in "A Bedtime Story."
Empire—"Sleepless Nights," starring Stanley Lupino.
Playhouse—Bill Boyd in "Carnival Boat."

Columbia Offers Exciting Drama

Jack Holt's role as a soldier-of-fortune-type of aviator in "War Correspondent," opening at the Columbia Theatre today, teams him once again with Ralph Graves and is the third picture in which he has played an aviator's role. The others, "Flight" and "Dirigible," were two of the best films in Holt's remarkable screen career of sixteen years.

In the shooting of those two productions, Holt spent more than 125 hours in the air. Constantly risking his life for all of this was what is technically known as "formation flying," which means that groups of planes roared through the ether at eighty or a hundred miles an hour with only a few feet separating them, as they dipped and zoomed in a manner which brought chills and thrills to spectators witnessing the manoeuvres from the safety of comfortable seats in a movie theatre.

PATRIOTIC THEME IS SEEN IN NAVY STORY

While "The Flag Lieutenant," coming to the Empire Theatre tomorrow, is unlike "Cavalcade" in its story and general outline, the climax is definitely on the same lines as that of the Coward play, in that it brings a note of irresistible patriotic fervor to the fore.

As a Daily Mail critic points out, the entire picture is British in sentiment and atmosphere, a fact that will commend it to audiences not only in the United Kingdom but in the Dominions as well. On the other hand it is full of real, sound entertainment, that holds from the opening reel to a brilliant conclusion. There has long been a demand for subjects of a national character, and "The Flag Lieutenant" fulfils to the letter this qualification.

FANTASY FORMS THEME FOR JUVENILES' DANCE

Rosemary Farrow and Ian Gibson will dance a beautiful pas de deux entitled "Moonlight Idyll," in the Russian Ballet School's revue, "Happy Feet," at the Royal Victoria tomorrow night. The story is a romantic fantasy of the love of a modern harlequin for a modern columbine, and although neither of this team is yet in the 'teen age, their splendid technique and graceful dancing, combined with a real feeling for the parts they play, makes one of the outstanding duet numbers of the revue.

Those who have followed the progress of these two promising juveniles will be amazed at the advancement they are making, and shown to advantage in this very charming number. Ian Gibson also shows his versatility in a difficult and spirited solo entitled "The Dying Gladiator," in which he will be seen as a Roman soldier fiercely active in his attack of an unseen enemy until, mortally wounded, he falls, struggles to his feet to resume the attack only to fall again as death shakes the spear from his hand.

Nazi Political Prison

A PRISONER being released from the new Nazi concentration camp for political prisoners at Oranienburg on the Havel River. Note the Nazi storm troopers on guard with the Swastika insignia of their party banding their arms.

LARGE ORCHESTRA TO PLAY AT PLAYHOUSE

Commencing tonight and every Thursday night in future, the Playhouse Theatre will offer something new in an attraction for music lovers, stated Ralph Calladine, theatre manager, last night.

The services of "Bud" Price and his ten-piece orchestra have been secured, with a specially selected programme of classical and popular music. "Bud" Price and his Novelty Entertainers are well known throughout Victoria and district, both for the quality and finish of their orchestral work and their versatile programmes.

'KING KONG' IS DRAMA TEAMING WITH ACTION

It had thrilled and suffered in titanic struggle with mammoth and weird prehistoric creatures, yet had never known the heart tingle only a woman can arouse!

"King Kong," giant ape, had triumphed for millions of adventure-filled years, yet this beast was no mightier than puny man when he saw beauty for the first time in the person of Ann Redman. A tiny doll in the hand of a babe is larger than Ann in the great hand of her fearsome admirer!

The fifty-foot ape's mighty cry of "Kong! Kong!" gives title to "King Kong," the R.K.O.-Radio picture that claims to have achieved the pinnacle of screen imagery.

"King Kong" opens tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre.

"KIDDIES' REVUE" WILL SHOW MANY FEATURES

A fine programme of youthful dances will be rendered at the City Temple, tomorrow night, by the pupils of the Mona Jewell School of Dancing, assisted by Eileen Chislett, Frances Borde, Mona Jewell, Doreen Munn and other solo dancers. Some forty-eight items comprise the varied programme. During the intermissions, vocal solos will be rendered by Miss Dorothy Rutledge, well-known musical festival winner; while assisting at the piano will be Winifred Green, A.L.C.M., Mary Glendenning, L.A.B., and Ada Borde. Many of the dances are the compositions of the pupils themselves.

Dance Arranged For Sports Fund

A big dance is planned for tonight at the Crystal Garden in aid of the unemployed sports fund, commencing at 9 p.m. and continuing until 1 a.m. As an added attraction there are handsome prizes offered to the persons correctly estimating the number of yards of cord displayed in a glass jar. This jar is displayed in the window of Hocking & Forbes sporting goods store, and again at the dance tonight. Estimates may be handed in at any time up to the end of the evening, when the results will be announced.

Judging by the interest evinced, there will be a big crowd present; and it is hoped that real support will be afforded this unemployed sports benefit affair.

SECURE MARIONETTES FOR CLUB "KARNIVAL"

A feature of the numerous side-show attractions at the Kinsmen "Karnival," which will take place on the evening of May 24, at the Crystal Garden, will be Randall's Marionettes. The Kinsmen have been extremely lucky in securing this marionette show for one evening only, and their success in this instance should prove to be popular with all those attending.

Marionettes are always a fascinating form of entertainment, both for young and old. The little figures in Randall's show stand only twenty-two inches high, and offer new and novel afts. One scene, in particular, is more than a little out of the ordinary, for it shows the interior of radio station KIN, with all the artists being played by marionettes.

Also presented on the same programme is the world's smallest piano player (reputedly), who will preside over a miniature piano.

During the past year twelve languages have been added to the list of those in which the British and Foreign Bible Society has published and circulated the Scriptures. New Testaments in three more languages and a complete Bible in one other have also been added.

Little Bedtime Stories

More About Jack and Jill

—By THORNTON W. BURGESS—

Whisky Jack and his wife Jill are own cousins of Sammy Jay. So much Peter Rabbit had learned from Snipper the Crossbill. It was just enough to arouse Peter's curiosity and make him anxious to know more. Right away he was fairly bursting with questions.

"Why haven't I ever seen them?" he demanded of Snipper Crossbill.

"Probably because Jack and Jill never have come down here," replied Snipper, snipping off scales from a pine cone. "You know you never had even heard of me until I happened down here a short time ago. Jack and Jill are very fond of the Great Woods of the Far North, and I don't believe anything but lack of food would induce them to come down here. Somehow they always manage to pick up a living, though how they do it some Winters I really don't know."

"You said that Whisky Jack doesn't wear a blue coat like his cousin Sammy Jay; what color coat does he wear?" asked Peter.

"Much the same as that of Tommy Tit the Chickadee," replied Snipper. "He is mostly grey and black and white. He is very modest but very neat in appearance and to look at him you never would guess that he is the thief he is. But when it comes to stealing Sammy Jay could take lessons from his cousin."

"I hope he won't!" exclaimed Peter. "Sammy is bad enough as he is and gets into mischief enough."

"You think Sammy Jay is bold sometimes, but he doesn't know what boldness is. You ought to see Whisky Jack do things," continued Snipper Crossbill. "I've seen him help himself to a hunter's food right inside the hunter's cabin with the hunter right there. I've seen him follow a trapper and steal the bait from his traps almost before the trapper's back was turned. Why, Jack and Jill are the boldest pair in all the Great Woods. Yes, sir, they are. And they are the most impudent. You think Sammy Jay has a harsh voice, but you ought to hear Whisky Jack when he takes a notion to be noisy."

"And you say that Jack and Jill don't wait for warm weather to begin nesting," said Peter.

"That is what is said," replied Snipper. "I've known them to have eggs in their nest when the nights were so cold that the trees snapped with it."

"You say that Whisky Jack doesn't wear a blue coat like his cousin"

"And do you mean to say that those eggs hatched and the babies didn't freeze?" cried Peter.

"Certainly I mean to say so," retorted Snipper.

"But how do Jack and Jill find food for them at that time of year?" persisted Peter. "For that matter, how do you and Mrs. Snipper expect to find food for your own youngsters?"

Snipper chuckled, for he knew that Peter thought he had put a question hard to answer.

Then he replied: "There are always plenty of seeds for us because the cones on the evergreens hold their seeds until we need them. As for Jack and Jill, the cousins of Sammy Jay, they are quite as thrifty as Happy Jack Squirrel or any of his relatives. They have storehouses in which they put away extra food whenever they find any. So they are always sure of not running short of food when their babies come. Do you still think that Mrs. Crossbill and I are crazy?"

"Yes, I do," cried Peter, "but I guess Mrs. Peter was right and that you know your own business better than I do. All I can say is I hope those eggs won't freeze."

"They won't," replied Snipper confidently.

GOOD CRICKET IS SHOWN IN FIRST GAMES

Fairfield and Victoria Win Wednesday League Opening Matches

Fairfield and Victoria came through with wins in the first Wednesday league matches of the season played yesterday. Fairfield made their bow in the league by defeating Five C's by 136 to 97, at Beacon Hill, while Victoria took Hudson's Bay into camp at Work Point Barracks by six wickets. Both games produced good cricket considering the lack of practice.

In the Fairfield-Five C's match, G. C. Grant and Locke put on 58 runs in an eighth-wicket stand, to compile a large part of the winners' total. Grant scored 53 before he was bowled by a good length ball from Gibbons, and batted well for his runs. Locke kept his wicket up and hit an occasional four to score 25 not out. Gibbons and Pendray bowled well for the Five C's, the former taking three for 34, and the latter two for 41.

Wilkinson and Pendray gave the churchmen a good start, before the former fell to a high catch at short leg. Gibbons played a typical innings for 47, when he gave a good catch to Nurse in the deep. Most of his runs came from boundary hits. Locke had the fine average of four wickets for 33 runs, and Attwell also bowled well to take four for 33.

The speedy bowling of Godfrey Wenman and a nice knock of 44 by Craddock were the chief factors in Victoria's win over Hudson's Bay, at Work Point Barracks. Wenman finished with an analysis of six for 12. Sharp with 17 and Wilcox with 15 not out helped to swell the Victoria score. Hanson was high man for the Hudson's Bay with 11.

Stem Rally in Last Frame to Come Through to Initial Win of Season in Senior Ball Loop —Lloyd Jones Twirls Steady Ball

Slingers	0	2	.000

Next game, Friday evening, Sons of Canada and Slingers, at 6:15 o'clock, at Royal Athletic Park.

Stemming a determined rally in the final inning, Tillicums came through to a 5 to 3 victory over Slingers in the Senior Amateur Baseball League last night at the Royal Athletic Park, to jump into a tie for second berth with Sons of Canada. It marked the first win of the season for the clubmen and the second straight defeat for the winery crew. Although it started to rain in the first part of the third frame, the squads got through seven innings and displayed a fine brand of ball for this time of the year. A fair crowd attended, despite the weather.

Tillicums really won the game in the second canto, when they got to Carr's offerings for four runs, Lloyd Jones twirled for the winners, and held Slingers to three safeties, two of which were blasted from the bat of Herb Cummins. Jones held Slingers in check until the last inning, when he weakened for a time, but managed to weather the efforts of his opponents. He fanned six and issued five bases on balls, while Carr whiffed seven and issued one free ticket. Slingers made five miscues, while Tillicums were guilty of four.

Slingers took the lead in the initial session, when Constable made the round trip. He gained a base on balls, and went to second on a fielder's choice. He reached third on Robinson's grounder to Jones. Cummins got his first hit by sending a sharp single to left, scoring Constable. H. Robinson ended the rally by popping up to Fleming at short. In Tillicums' half of the inning, Fleming started off with a long double between left and centre. Cummins made a great attempt to get it after running a city block. Stipe fanned and Roy Robinson took Taylor's liner in leftfield for the second out. Down got a life on H. Robinson's error. Fleming going to third on the miscue. Down stole second, but Moore fouled to Constable.

WINNERS TAKE LEAD

Tillicums went after Carr in the second. Gibbons got a life when he was hit by a pitched ball. Lynn Patrick connected for a long triple between left and centre, scoring Gibbons. Worthington sent Patrick home with a double, and Jones followed with a sharp single, scoring Worthington. Fleming got a walk, and then Taylor came through with another single, filling the bases. Constable mussed up Down's grounder and Jones raced across the plate. The rally ended when Moore hit into a double play, Carr to Thomas to Restall.

Lynn Patrick went the distance in the third when he was given a life after Thomas missed the third strike, the ball hitting the grandstand. He stole second and came home when Carr threw to second trying to catch Jatrick off the bag, but nobody was there to receive the throw. Slingers scored in the fourth when "Scotty" Robinson gained a walk, stole second, and crossed the plate on errors by Taylor and Patrick. The winerymen nipped another rally in the bud when they completed their second double killing in the last of the fourth, H. Robinson to Barnswell to Restall.

FILL BASES

Slingers looked as if they were going to snatch defeat out of the fire in their half of the last frame. Barney Barnswell started off with a triple through second base and then came home on Restell's long fly to Patrick at rightfield. Carr got a life on Jones' error of Moore's throw to first. Worthington made a beautiful running catch of Constable's high foul for the first out. Williams got a walk, and then Slingers pulled a neat double steal, Carr going to third and Williams to second. Roy Robinson watched four high ones float by and filled the bases. Cummins hit a fast grounder to third, Freddy Gibbons making a fine pick up to tag the base for the third out, and the game was called.

WALTON WINS WALKING RACE

Vancouver Boy Takes British Columbia Crown—Robinson Second—Williams Disqualified

VANCOUVER, May 17 (CP). — Eighteen-year-old Norman Walton today won the walking championship of British Columbia with a clean-cut victory in the eleven-mile hike, sponsored by The Vancouver Sun. His time was one hour, twenty-seven minutes and twenty-five seconds, three minutes behind the record set last year by John Towers, now of Edmonton.

Howard Robinson finished second to Walton in 1:29:6, with Mike Pasternak third, and Dave Walton, a former champion, fourth. Duncan Williams, of Victoria, who finished second last year, was disqualified for running early in the race.

More than 200 started in the various classes, including races for boys, young women, middle-aged women, middle-aged men and veterans. Nearly 100 started the championship event, and thousands of people lined the streets along the route. Heavy rain during the race made the going slippery, and slowed up the contestants.

Other results—Boys: Fred Barry, 1:36:36; women, Margaret Gale, 1:44; men, forty to sixty-five, Walter Mason, 1:39; women, over forty, Mrs. Jeanie Duck, 1:54:40; veterans, over sixty-five, H. T. Skelly, 1:57:40.

Les Bradley Drives Home Lone Tally in Hard-Fought Tussle

Left Winger Scores on Pass From Art Chapman in Second Half to Give Departmentals 1-0 Decision in Wednesday Football League — Walker Injured Near End

Smashing in a hard drive after accepting a beautiful pass from Art Chapman, twenty-eight minutes after the second half got under way, Les Bradley, left winger, gave Spencer's a 1-to-0 victory over the Navy in the McKay Shield final, yesterday afternoon, at Heywood Avenue grounds, in the final fixture of the Wednesday Football League. One of the largest crowds of the year attended, and witnessed a hard-fought battle from beginning to end.

Manager Eddie Rutledge and his Spencer's eleven are to be congratulated for the fine showing they have made in the mid-week loop this season. Organized long after the season got under way, Spencer's have shown great form in practically all their matches, and have always gone down fighting or have come through to victory in the same fine, sporting manner.

Misfortune crept into the ranks of the Navy team shortly before the end when "Hookey" Walker, left winger, was badly injured and had to be carried off the field. His left leg was put in splints and he was taken away. It was first thought that his leg was broken, but this was later denied.

PLAY EVEN

Play throughout the first half was about even with both goals being subjected to numerous attacks, but Barker and Bissell were both on the job and no scoring resulted. With the second period more than half gone, Art Chapman broke away and made a fine opening for Les Bradley to score. The sailors fought hard during the remaining minutes, but Spencer's defence did not weaken and held their opponents at bay until the final whistle.

From the opening whistle the teams set a fast pace and the ball was sent from one end to the other at a good clip. The goalies never had much work in this half as the ball was usually cleared by the backs. Wilson got through on a pass from Marr, but shot wide, while Bissell came out to clear from Walker. At the other end Barker made two fine clearances of long shots. Wilson put over a beautiful corner kick, but McMillan headed the ball out of the danger zone, while Walker followed with another fine flag kick, which Clarke cleared to midfield. Luxton, inside left, was playing a great game for Spencer's and figured prominently in nearly every play, either offensive or defensive. Neither team registered in the half.

After the change over, the Navy attacked hard during the first few minutes, but Cann, Clarke, D. Bradley and McMillan defended their goal in fine fashion. Barker cleared from L. Bradley's corner and shortly after a foul was whistled against D. Bradley, but Bernie Clarke cleared. The Navy forwards carried the ball right through, but McDonald skied over with a sure goal looking him in the face. McMillan was hurt during a melee and the game was delayed for several minutes. He recovered and continued in the game.

WINNING GOAL

Art Chapman took a pass from Preston and drove a first timer over the bar, while a few seconds later, McDonald shot wide from close range. Moore was injured at this stage and the game halted again. He collided with Cann, but stayed in the game after a short rest. As play resumed, Art Chapman took a cross from Brown and banged another drive over the framework. The sailors worked through again, but Bissell came out to save from Marr. Twenty-eight minutes had ticked away when the first, and what proved to be the winning goal came. Luxton broke away from midfield with the ball in possession. He passed to Art Chapman, who dribbled in close. As Alex Whyte came to meet him, he slipped a neat pass to Les Bradley and the latter gave Barker no chance to save with a fast shot to the top of the rigging.

Right after the centre, Art Chapman broke away by himself, but Hibbert tripped him near the penalty area, and the pair nearly came to blows over the play. However, no fistic demonstration took place, and Munroe sent the awarded foul wide of the net. Walker nearly scored just before he was injured, but Bissell outsmarted him and took the ball from his feet before he could shoot. It was a fine piece of work. Seconds later Walker was injured and the Navy were left shorthanded for the remaining minutes. The sailors fought hard, but their efforts came to a halt with the sounding of the whistle.

Johnston handled the game in fine style and the line-ups follow:

Navy—Barker, Hibbert, Whyte, Bennallack, Roberts, Dovey, Wilson, Marr, McDonald, Moore and Walker.

JOKERS XI WILL FACE ISLANDERS

Junior Elevens to Meet for League Championship Saturday at Heywood Avenue

Jokers and James Island will battle it out for the Victoria and District Junior Football League championship, Saturday afternoon, on the Heywood Avenue pitch at 3 o'clock. Tooby will referee and one of the best and hardest games in recent months should be witnessed. The winners will succeed Duncan as titleholder. Last season the Up-Islanders won the trophy, but since have entered in the senior division, which championship they won this year.

Defeating Royal Oak last week by a 2-0 score, the Jokers jumped into a deadlock with James Island for top position, thus creating a play-off for the honors. The Islanders have a strong club and will have their best in uniform for the battle. Jokers will have their regular line-up on deck and are confident of succeeding Duncan as champions.

British Racers May Try for Speedboat Title

Both Sir Malcolm Campbell and Hubert Scott-Paine Slated to Race Gar Wood

SIR MALCOLM CAMPBELL HUBERT SCOTT-PAINE GAR WOOD

By IRA M. MOHLER
Central Press Canadian Writer.

DETROIT, May. 17.—Gar Wood, holder of the international speedboat championship, may have to defend his Harmsworth trophy against two British challengers this Fall, it was learned here today.

Pressure is being brought on Lord Wakefield to send Miss England III to Detroit to race once more against the grey-haired Wood and his Miss America X.

Driver of the Miss England III would be Sir Malcolm Campbell, who, several months ago at Daytona Beach, Fla., set a new world's automobile speed record.

The other opposing boat, also racing under the British challenge, is the Miss Britain III, to be driven by Hubert Scott-Paine. Definite word as to his coming, however, will be delayed until after tests of Miss Britain III are made on Lake Garda, Italy, the last of May.

Sentiment among English sportsmen, W. D. Edenburn, chairman of the regatta committee, revealed, is highly in favor of Campbell's being at the wheel of the Lord Wakefield boat.

Before Lord Wakefield could announce his re-entry in the race, he would have to persuade manufacturers to install their motors in Miss England III. Following Kaye Don's unsuccessful attempt to lift the trophy last September, the company took their motors away from Lord Wakefield.

TESTS SATISFACTORY

The latter has declared he was finished with motorboat racing. Campbell also has said he would not be in the race. These difficulties are being ironed out by English sportsmen, who were disappointed in the outcome of last year's challenge, Edenburn said.

Scott-Paine's boat, Miss Britain III, is powered with a single Napier engine. Reports from England are that his experiments thus far with the boat have been successful and there is every indication he will race. He has said he would withdraw if Lake Garda trials were not satisfactory.

The American team also may be composed of two additional boats, Edenburn said. These are groups of men in Brooklyn, N.Y., and in San Francisco who have expressed intentions of building boats.

The Harmsworth trophy race, if held, will be the feature of a gigantic aquatic week, August 29 to September 5, planned by the Gold Cup committee. The secondary attraction will be the Gold Cup race on September 1, with the Harmsworth scheduled for September 2, 4 and 5, if necessary.

Wood expects to drive Miss America X in which he defeated Kaye Don last year, and which holds the world's speedboat championship.

Miss Plumpton took nineteen holes to beat Miss Barbara Daniell, of Berkshire, and Miss Park struggled for twenty holes with Miss Phylis Wade, Ferndown, before reaching the semi-final.

Coast Soccer Loop Decides to Return To Provincial Body

Differences Between "Outlaw" Organization and B.C. Association Cleared—All Teams Expected to Enter Dominion Championships

VANCOUVER, May 17 (CP).—Differences between the Pacific Coast Football Association and the British Columbia Football Association were satisfactorily settled as a result of a special meeting of the Mainland members of the Coast F.A. council and club delegates on Tuesday. The "outlawed" clubs can now return to organised football. Within the next twenty-four hours, practically all of them will have filed their entries for the Dominion championship series. On Monday night, Secretary Bob Davidson dispatched the following wire to Sam Davidson in reply to the one received earlier that day from the Dominion secretary:

"Note with regret contents of your wire. Are still of opinion your council should accept our clubs as an association. We explained our position fully to commission and, as an association, have moral obligation to Victoria clubs and Victoria public. We invited them to join with us, and assured them would stand together. This not possible under clause ten, your suggestions, and acceptance this clause would destroy all work done by us in bringing soccer to better standard, as forcing clubs to affiliate with B.C.F.A., through districts reverts back to previous method operating, which not satisfactory, especially on Lower Island."

At the special meeting the following resolution was adopted, and ordered sent to Secretary Davidson, of the D.F.A., without prejudice:

AGREE TO UNITE

"In view of the concessions made by the D.F.A. relative to our proposals, and the assurances and guarantee of that body that our interests will be propely protected, we now feel that no real differences exist between the two bodies, and that any minor or technical details can be easily straightened out, which we suggest be done by the commission previously appointed, and knowing that the good and welfare of the game itself is much bigger than those in it, be it recorded that the negotiations with the Dominion Football Association be completed as satisfactory and acceptable, and football in this province reunited under one common organization."

On the suggestion of Councillor W. A. Pritchard and President G. K. Morton, of the Pacific Coast League, the following was also ordered embodied in the wire to the D.F.A. secretary:

"To enable us to clear up our remaining games in reasonable time, we would recommend that for this year the clubs of the Pacific Coast League be drawn separately in the Dominion championship series, the winner to meet the winning team of the other series for the right to represent British Columbia."

This resolution and suggestion was wired to Winnipeg last night by Secretary Bob Davidson, of the Coast F.A. Earlier in the day he requested the Dominion secretary to ask the B.C.F.A. to extend the entry date for the Dominion championship series to midnight on Thursday, and also inquired if the clubs in membership with the Pacific Coast F.A. must pay affiliation fees to the B.C.F.A. in addition to entry fees. To this a reply was received saying that a recommendation had been made to the B.C.F.A. to extend the entry date, and suggesting that a nominal affiliation fee be paid to the provincial body; but if this was not acceptable, that the whole fee be paid, and the D.F.A. would refund the entry fees paid last year by the Coast F.A. clubs who did not take part in the championship series.

LOCAL HEAD DISSATISFIED

Advices from Victoria late last night stated that President Alex Robertson, president of the Coast F.A., expressed himself as dissatisfied with the action taken by the clubs and Mainland members of the council.

The B.C.F.A. council also met last night for the purpose of arranging the play-downs in the Dominion championship series, but during the course of their gathering, a wire was received from Secretary Davidson of the D.F.A., intimating that the Coast F.A. had requested an extension of the entry date to Thursday midnight; but that the provincial body was not compelled to grant any further extension.

It was decided, however, to accept affiliations and entry fees from the Pacific Coast F.A. clubs for the Dominion championship series, such applications to bear postmark at or prior to midnight Wednesday. Nanaimo City had already filed their application on Monday night. The draw for the first round will be made on Friday or Saturday.

Security Prices Move Higher at New York Mart

NEW YORK, May 17 (AP). — Security markets were cheerfully disposed today, and prices again advanced as another batch of favorable trade statistics and dividend news added their weight to the upward movement, now in progress a month.

Chancellor Hitler's speech to the Reichstag appeared to have a more soothing effect than had been anticipated in some quarters. Marketwise, the address was accompanied by a rally in German bonds, and a rise in foreign currencies.

The stock trend was upward virtually all day, though late profit taking ate into the many extreme gains of 1 to more than 5 points. Steel shares were fairly vigorous, while rails made occasional sallies.

Shorts in American Telephone spent an uncomfortable day. Apparently they reduced their commitments to a sizeable amount both before and after declaration of the usual $2.25 quarterly dividend, for the stock shot up to 112 7-8 for a rise of 5 5-8, finishing 2 points under the top.

U.S. Steel rallied above 50 again, holding a fractional part of its gain. Allied Chemical, joining the "100 club," almost reached 102, and was up more than 3 net. U.S. Steel preferred, American Can, American Tobacco "B," Union Pacific, National Distillers, McKeesport, Ludlum Steel and Bethlehem closed from major fractions to more than a point higher. Sales totaled 4,803,900 shares.

The market's ability to rally against early strength of dollar exchange again suggested that more attention had been given to business gains than to inflation prospects. Sterling at one time was quoted under $3.90, but fully recovered a drop of around 3 cents.

Bond market moved into new high territory for the year today, as international political uneasiness calmed under Chancellor Hitler's Reichstag speech, and business and industrial news continued to make pleasant reading.

Average for sixty domestic corporate bonds advanced one-half a point to 73.1. Secondary domestic issues and German obligations showed the best gains of the day, although the high-grade maturities were fairly steady.

Railway bonds led the forward rush.

Among gainers of 1 to 3 or more points were some loans of Baltimore & Ohio, Burlington, Chicago Great Western, Great Northern, Illinois Central, N.Y. Central and New Haven. American Telephones were steady to firm.

German Governments' 5 1-2's and 7's were up 2 points each, and other Reich loans advanced 1 to around 4 points.

WHEAT PRICES GAIN SLIGHTLY

Trading Quiet at Winnipeg —Foreign Demand Lacking and Sales Small

WINNIPEG, May 17 (CP). — Trading on the Grain Exchange was lacking in vigor today, and, with no important features in session to close 1-4 to 1-2-cent above yesterday's final values. Canadian export business, amounting to 250,000 bushels, was scarcely a market factor, and the only support was engendered by reports of firm foreign markets and lightness of selling pressure.

Traders showed little interest in the market, and were content to let it take its own course. At the close, May delivery was quoted at 64 3-8, July at 65 1-4, and October at 67 3-8 cents.

Operations revealed nothing of an interesting character, and volume was extremely restricted.

Cash and coarse grains idled through the dull session, spreads standing unchanged at the close. Coarse grains trade was devoid of feature.

PRECIOUS METAL GROUP ADVANCES

Gold Stocks Lead Market Upward at Vancouver as Trading Becomes Less Feverish

VANCOUVER, May 17 (CP).—With the precious metals group in the van, the general trend of active issues on the Vancouver Stock Exchange today was upward. Trading was confined to a more compact group than during the feverish activity of the past few weeks, but volume was still good.

Bralorne and Pioneer led the way into higher territory, the former bounding up 75 points to close at 6.60, a new all-time high. Pioneer, following the annual statement, which was optimistic in tone, today, surged up 60 to a new high at 11.00. Bridge River Exploration advanced 4½ to 59, while Bridge River at 31½ was up one. Reno failed to follow the leaders, easing two to 1.17.

In the oils, Home more than regained its loss of the previous session, closing at 82, up seven. Model gained two at 35, and Amalgamated was up three at 15½. Mayland eased 8 to 82.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE MAY BE AN ADVANTAGE

You have been told that your proper blood pressure is 100 plus your age, so that if you are 20 it should be 120, and if 40, then 140.

Naturally, this would mean that if you were 70 it should be 170.

However, in older people it is considered normal when the blood pressure is 100 plus half the age. Thus an individual of 70 should be 135.

As a matter of fact, your doctor will tell you that while 120 to 125 for an old person is "safer," nevertheless, where the blood pressure is a little higher than normal, say 140 to 160, the individual seems to enjoy life more.

Dr. R. Scheffer, Capetown, South Africa, points out that in old age, as in later life, raised blood pressure can almost be considered an advantage.

Old people whose blood pressure is high are much more energetic and useful members of the community than those in whom the blood pressure is low.

Old people with blood pressure between 160 and 180 seldom complain, while those with blood pressure of 120 and less are always ailing.

Provided the heart is regular, the difference between the blood pressure with armband on and with armband off is the right amount, and if there is no kidney ailment, the high blood pressure will not cause trouble or require treatment.

This doesn't mean that as we grow older we should all have blood pressure higher than normal, but that there are people in whom, at all ages, the pressure is normally or naturally high. These people enjoy perfect health, provided their pressure is not interfered with. If attempts are made to lower the pressure by the use of diet and drugs, these people may begin to worry about "their high blood pressure" and get less joy out of life.

The thought then is that high blood pressure is "normal" in many people, and if there is no heart, bloodvessel, or kidney ailment, nothing should be said or done about it.

A low blood pressure in old age need not then be a matter of satisfaction, because investigation shows that these individuals are always ailing.

The main thought is that high blood pressure means nothing in itself if there is no other condition present; in fact, it is of real advantage to the body in giving every part its full supply of blood.

It was raining—it had been raining for hours—yet the young man remained loafing round the garden gate, heedless of his dripping clothes. At last a middle-aged woman came to the door, and indignantly demanded to know what he wanted.

"I—I've come a courtin' your daughter," replied the young man sheepishly, with wild hopes that he would be asked inside.

"Courtin' Lizzie, eh?" said the woman. "Then you'd better run away and lose yourself! My Lizzie is not going to marry a man who hasn't got the pluck to knock at the door and ask for her. Why, when her father came after me he climbed the back wall, strangled the bulldog, and knocked the old man down. Then he grabbed hold of my hand and pushed the ring on, and told me the banns were going to be called the next Sunday. That's the sort of a husband I want for my girl—not a shivering idiot who has not enough sense to come in out of the rain!"

FINE FLOWERS AT LADYSMITH SHOW

Horticultural Society's Spring Exhibition Proves Great Success for Quality and Attendance

LADYSMITH, May 17.—The Tulip and Spring Flower Show, sponsored by the local Horticultural Society last Saturday, was an outstanding success from the point of view of the high quality of the exhibits and the attendance.

James King, whose specialty is tulip culture, particularly in the earlier varieties, was the winner of the O'Halloran Cup, awarded for the highest points at each of the parlor shows under the auspices of the society.

The competition was close in classes including the more specialized varieties, and in the Darwins there were many remarkable showings, and the exhibits were an example of what careful culture can accomplish with this variety. Adverse weather conditions recently in this neighborhood apparently had failed to affect the profusion of blooms.

Patronage was exceptionally good, especially towards the evening hours, and the society anticipates a wider interest in its future efforts. The next show will be held early next month.

Dallain, who has been an indefatigable worker in the interests of the Honorable Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem has received intimation from London that he has been admitted as a "serving brother" of the order dating from February 17, 1933. The notice received by Capt. Dallain is from the Grand Priory in the British Realm of the order and comes from the Chancery of the order, St. John's Gate, Clerkenwell, London.

The information conveyed is that His Majesty the King, the soverign head of the Grand Priory, has conveyed the honor. Capt. Dallain was formerly an Esquire of the order. This rank, however, has been done away with.

Two others on Vancouver Island have had the honor bestowed upon them. They are W. Fulton, of Nanaimo, vice-president of the British Columbia Council, and A. J. Taylor, of Cumberland, who was admitted last year.

Body of Missing Man Under Boom

POWELL RIVER, May 17 (CP).—The body of Albert D. Watts, who disappeared about a month ago, was discovered in the log pond of the Powell River Company mill on Tuesday. Apparently the body had become lodged beneath one of the numerous booms ,and came to the surface when these were being moved. It is believed that Mr. Watts stumbled in the darkness and fell off a wharf.

MURDER IN EDEN

by Charles Winfield Smith

CHAPTER XLV

Once more Kane read the last line in the diary:

"They're going to try to shut her up."

He gazed at it abstractedly for a moment and then tossed the little brown volume aside. Lying there on the bed, he stared out of the window, the while he tried to weld the facts which he had into a strong chain.

"They're going to try to shut her up," he repeated from memory. "I wonder who 'they' are and what is meant by that entry."

Gradually, his mind ran back over the events of the last few days, from the time that he had first seen the body of the murdered director. The motive for that murder was plain enough. It was revenge, coupled possibly with blackmail. From what he had learned of Richard Bailey's life in Hollywood there could be no other motive.

Throughout the diary there recurred references to "Buddy." Was that "Buddy" Deane—Evelyn? The poor, unfortunate girl had been known in Hollywood as "Buddy." But was she the "my Buddy" to whom Bailey referred?

In the turmoil of his deliberations his mind wandered to the hospital where Evelyn Deane had died. Her last words—

Kane sprang to his feet and went to the window. That was it! There was another "Buddy." What were those last words?

"Buddy—tricked—me!"

Nanette had told him:

"She robbed him of everything he had."

And Lucy had declared:

"I have often heard him talk of his Buddy. He used to tell us about her—but not lately."

And then, prompted by Kane, she had added:

"Something must have happened between them."

But what was that something? Undoubtedly, Kane considered, it was that the girl had found out something about Bailey that turned her against him, that transformed her from an adoring, forgiving creature into a cunning, ravenous fiend.

No longer was she Bailey's "Buddy." She was a greedy, exacting thing who exercised the woman's prerogative to make the man pay, not in humility and pleas for forgiveness, but where it apparently would hurt him most—from his pocketbook.

The director lived extravagantly. That was obvious after a study of his home up on the hill above Hollywood. He had numerous affaires d'armour and those required money, much money. Added to that, he had not had an engagement for some time and his supply of cash had dwindled to the point where he himself was forced to exact blackmail from one who had fallen into his hands.

Kane was forced to smile at the irony of the situation—a man forced to pay blackmail with money he himself had obtained by the same vicious and disreputable means.

Nanette had been his victim. It was her money that he was using to pay off this other woman. She had paid him handsomely, he had no doubt of that. But who was getting the money?

Kane looked at his watch. Seven o'clock! Why didn't Holmes telephone? Had he failed in his mission?

He was just about to decide to telephone the LeRoi and ascertain for himself the reason for the delay when the phone rang. He leaped to the instrument and shouted:

"Well?"

But when the voice came to him over the wire he felt a chill of desolation in his heart.

"Jere?" It was Inspector MacQuarrie.

"Yes."

"I'd like to see you for a moment. How about at dinner?"

Kane told him that he was awaiting a telephone call and could not leave the room.

"I'm coming up," the other said, and before Kane could stop him he hung up.

Jere Kane was in no mood for MacQuarrie's banalities at the moment. He wanted to be left alone with his thoughts, but how, he asked himself, could he deny himself to an old friend.

Presently, without ceremony, the inspector walked into the room. Ben MacQuarrie looked at him through quizzical eyes, then:

"Son, you're in trouble."

"Don't I know it?" hotly.

"Take it easy, Jere, take it easy. If I can help you—"

Kane shrugged his shoulders and turned away. The older man went to him and, in a fatherly manner, slipped his arm about his shoulders.

"Come, come," he said comfortingly. "I know what you're up against. I've just had a talk with Lee."

"Yes?" with a scowl.

"It's about the Hull girl."

"What's that?" quickly. "What about her?"

MacQuarrie grinned. "I thought that would interest you."

Kane dropped down on the edge of the bed and MacQuarrie took possession of the easy chair. After a moment:

"Lillian Hull," the inspector said slowly, "knew who murdered Richard Bailey."

"How do you know that?" the other snapped.

"Now, just keep quiet and let me talk. And when I'm through you can ask all the questions you want."

He fumbled in his pocket and finally found that for which he was looking, a sheet of stationery. He gazed at it for a moment and then, perfunctorily, handed it to the other.

Kane turned red as his eyes fell upon what was written there.

"Where did you get this?" he demanded.

"I told you Chief Lee gave it to me—to give to you."

"Why didn't he bring it to me?"

"Because," hotly, "he couldn't find you. He said you promised to see him this afternoon but you didn't show up."

"I've had a lot to do," defensively.

"I know you have, son," kindly. "You're up against one of the toughest cases I ever heard of. I'm not censuring you, but—"

"I promised John Lee I would deliver the murderer in twenty-four hours," Kane cried. "Ben, I've got to make good."

"Twenty-four hours or forty-eight hours, Jere, it's all the same."

"What's the chief doing to help me?" bitterly.

"He's carrying on an independent investigation. You don't need to think for a moment that he's laying down on the job. He's not hampering you—that little tiff you had with him is forgotten—but he's trying to pick up some loose ends. But what do you think of that," he indicated the sheet of paper.

Kane glanced down at the paper. It was written in a regular cramped style, as though it had been penned hastily. He read:

"Larry—

"You've got to help me. You have too. If you don't hurry I'm going the way of the others. I know it—I'm marked. Lillian."

"Did Lee tell you where he got this?" Kane demanded.

"Yes. He said Sergeant James found it in the Hull girl's desk."

"In her desk?" quizzically.

"Yes, the desk was locked. They had to break it open. That was after you left there."

Kane stared at the floor and unconsciously rubbed his chin. Presently:

"Did they find anything else?" shortly.

"Yes. This." MacQuarrie handed him an envelope.

Hastily, Kane drew out the sheet of paper and unfolded it. Neatly typewritten was this message:

"Lillian—

"You're getting too friendly with that person. If you don't watch out you're going to get in trouble. She's a devil. You can't trust her. "Take my advice and avoid her. She's in a position where she can do a lot of harm. Larry."

Kane was on his feet in a flash, snapping his fingers. His face beamed; an almost fanatical light gleamed in his eyes.

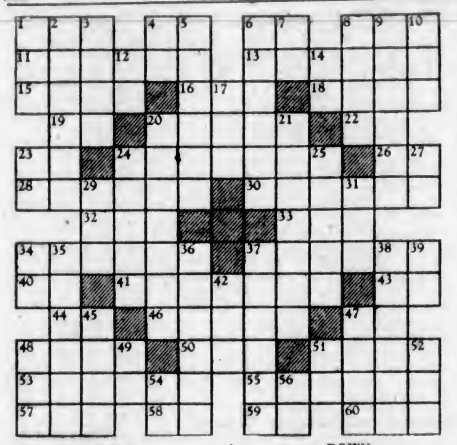

"I've got it, Ben, I've got it!" he cried. "I'm going to need just one thing to clinch it."

"Who is it, Jere?" the inspector asked eagerly.

"It's—" But the insistent ringing of the telephone stopped him.

WANTED COSTS PUT UP IN PREVIOUS ACTION

In Supreme Court Chambers, Mr. Justice Fisher yesterday heard argument in the case of John Anderson vs. Mrs. M. E. Drummond, in which W. H. M. Haldane, for the defendant, sought an order requiring the putting up of the costs of an original action before the present action could be proceeded with. His Lordship refused the application.

The original action was one arising out of a realty deal in which three promissory notes were involved. This had been set aside on technical grounds and the action was started over again by H. A. Beckwith, counsel for the plaintiff, in amended form.

In the application of Mr. Haldane, yesterday, it was contended that the costs involved in the first proceedings should be paid before a move could be made in the new action.

Helpfulness cannot be standardized. Giving until it hurts is not a true measure of charity. Some are easier hurt than others.
